

SPUD RAISERS OF COUNTY TO HAVE MEETING

Melon and General Truck
Growers To Participate
In Conference.

Potato, melon and general truck crop growers will meet at the Farm Bureau office on next Tuesday, March, promptly at 10 a. m.
This will be an annual round-up of truck growers throughout the county. A very interesting and profitable program has been arranged by a committee of melon growers and truckers. The program will start promptly at 10 a.
m. and conclude at 3 p. m.

The program includes the following talks: "The Problems of Profitable Potato Growing," E. R.
Lancashire; "Spraying and Dusting to Control Potato Diseases and Insect Enemies," T. H. Parks;
"Truck Crop Insect Enemies and Their Control," M. P. Jones;
"Truck Crop Diseases," E. R.
Lancashire.

Pickaway-co soils and the location both afford local potato growers and melon growers and truckers great possibilities. During the last few years insect pests and disease enemies have been rapidly increasing. It is the object of the above program to assist growers in meeting some of these problems.

ONLY ONE MEETING

There will be only one such meeting in the county this year.
The committee has been very fortunate in securing specialists from the Ohio State university who have practical experience and training in their particular field of work.

The morning program will be devoted primarily to the problems surrounding potato growing. Potato growers should be sure to attend the morning session. They will be welcome to stay in the afternoon also if interested in the program. The afternoon session has been outlined primarily for melon growers and truck crop growers and will emphasize those problems of disease and insect control confronting the melon raiser and trucker. Fertilization of all truck crops will be discussed throughout the program.

WEDDING MAY BE ON SUNDAY

Lindbergh and Fiancee Go To Morrow Country Estate
In Mexico.

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—Col.
Charles A. Lindbergh and Miss Anne Spencer Morrow, his fiancée, today were to motor to Cuernavaca to spend the weekend at the Morrow estate there.

They will depart leaving all sorts of rumors behind them.
Prominent among these is one to the effect that when they return they will be husband and wife.
There are other rumors along similar lines, some even saying the minister has been picked and tomorrow set as the date.

Standing in the face of these rumors is the recent flat statement from the American embassy that the date and place of the wedding will be formally announced in due time by Ambassador and Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, parents of the bride-to-be who are accompanying the betrothed couple to Cuernavaca today.

This city, however, is all agog over the romantic possibilities of an unannounced wedding at the beautiful country estate of the Morrow, hence the persistence of the rumors.

The famous airman and Miss Morrow spent a pleasant day yesterday driving out to the hacienda of Don Antonio Riba Cervantes at Toluca, fifty miles from here.
Don Cervantes, although 75 years of age, is an ardent aviation enthusiast and an owner of several planes which he pilots himself.

Broadway Marvels When Scientist Measures Blush of Chorus Beauty

NEW YORK, March 2.—Broadway—which usually is too busy with its own affairs to bother today marveled at the wonders of science.

Savants from all over the nation gathered at the exhibition of the American Institute and put on a theatrical revue—a sparkling, magical show. Light beams causing music to play, a magnet deriving its power from heat supporting a man without a court order, 500,000 volts "enough to electro-cute everybody in the room," cracked and thundered, and a rabbit's egg was revealed with the original cell spitting up and re-splitting.

BLUSH IS FOUND

But to Broadway, these tricky presentations were a detail. What caused the big buzz was the measurement of a chorus girl's blush by an instrument called the thermopile.

Neither was it exactly the measuring by Dr. E. E. Free of the radiant heat from the velvet skin of a chorus girl which woke up Broadway.

It was the riddle—can anybody find a chorus girl who blushes?

Well, they did.

Her name is Joanna Allen.

She is 21, with hair like white gold, and prettier than a picture.
"I don't think so many chorus girls blush but there are still a few of us left," said pretty Joanna.

Joanna stood in the midst of sparkling machinery on the platform beside the professor.

She is 123 pounds of atoms and scientifically symmetrical.

AND SHE BLUSHED!

The professor brought the thermopile closer and closer to the jelly-like cheek of Joanna.

Under the flood of klieg lights you could see the rose-like flush mantle Joanna's cheeks. Movie cameras were grinding.

The stunt had clicked and everybody was highly pleased.

"What made you blush?"
Joanna was asked.

"Just as they started taking my picture. I got a run in my stocking—can you beat it?" said Joanna, with tears in her pretty eyes.

NEW HOLLAND WILL FETE CAGE PLAYERS

The business men of New Holland will entertain the members of the basketball teams of that town at a banquet next Friday night, March 8, at which County Superintendent M. C. Warren and all the basketball coaches in Pick-away-co will be among the guests.

An elaborate dinner especially prepared for young appetites will be served to the guests with a movie party at The New Holland theater following. After the theater the players will then be entertained at a dance in the town hall.

Tickets are already on sale at all of the business houses in New Holland.

LECTURE ARRANGED

Sunday night at the Presbyterian church there will be a showing of 60 colored slides illustrating the World ministry of the Presbyterian church. The Presbyterian church has a direct responsibility for one hundred million of the world's population. This will be a personally conducted world tour, touching only the outstanding stations. All interested in learning more of what the church is doing in the world are invited to attend.

FREED FROM JAIL

Lester Sells, sent to the Pick-away-co jail from the federal court at Columbus to serve out a $50 fine on a liquor charge, was released Saturday when his time expired.

MONROE-TWP, SALT CREEK IN WIN COLUMN

Two Pickaway-co Teams Gain
Victories At Delaware
Tournament.

DELAWARE, O., March 2.—Columbus East, Marion Harding, Mt.
Vernon, and Delaware high schools today are survivors of the Central Ohio Class A. basketball tournament being held here at Ohio Wesleyan university.

Two Columbus schools fought it out first, with East high topping West, 28 to 20. Mount Vernon's win over Lancaster was the result of last night's card. Lancaster took the lead early but Mount slowly crept up, until at the half, only one point was lacking on Mounts' side to make it a tie.
The two teams were deadlocked at the end of the third quarter, 17-all. A rally in the last few minutes of play, put Mt. Vernon ahead with a one-point victory, 22 to 21.

LOW SCORE SURPRISE

Delaware's win over Westerville was to be expected, but the unusual low score was a surprise.
Delaware won, 14 to 9.

In the last game of the evening,
Marion Harding downed Columbus Bexley, after a close, hard-fought game, 19 to 16. The half ended 10 to 6 with Harding on top, but the Columbus boys staged a comeback, and made it 12 to 12 at the third period. Woodward's loss or fouls, crippled Bexley, however, and Marion took the game.

Play will be resumed again this afternoon in Class A, with the following pairings: Columbus Central vs. Delaware, Mt. Vernon vs.
Newark; Columbus South vs. Columbus East, Marion Harding vs.
Columbus Aquinas.

In Class B circles, London, Salt Creek, Watkins, Monroe, Hyatts,
Plain City, Grandview, Marion St.
Marys, Millersport, Upper Arlington, Cardington, Marysville, Pickerington, Kirkersville and Granville survived the first round.

CIRCLEVILLE BEATEN

Circleville, yesterday, was accidentally reported to have defeated the strong London team but the Tigers were beaten, 48 to 21.
New Holland champions of Pick-away-co, was defeated, 25 to 23, by Cardington. Monroe-top beat Morrill, 26 to 12, while Salt Creek defeated Magnetic Springs, 29 to 21. Stoutsville lost to Marion St.
Marys, 29 to 21.

Interest in yesterday's games was centered on Marysville last year's district champs, who played Lancaster St. Marys. Marysville survived by virtue of one point victory, 17 to 16.

Games in Class B today are as follows: London vs. Watkins;
Monroe vs. Hyatts; Plain City vs.
Grandview; Marion St. Marys vs.
Millersport; Upper Arlington vs.
Cardington; Marysville vs. Monroe;
Kirkersville vs. Pickerington;
Granville vs. Salt Creek.

CONGRESS HAS BIG JOB AHEAD

Tremendous Number of Bills
To Be Enacted Before
Adjournment.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A half billion dollars in appropriation bills, a hundred other minor bills and hundreds of presidential appointments stood between the dying seventeenth congress today and a peaceful adjournment at noon Monday.

The legislative pathway seemed clear of obstacles to final enactment of the appropriation bills with all filibusters silenced for the moment. Scores of other bills will be jammed through in the closing hours by unanimous consent.

The presidential nominations alone seemed to be sentenced to death by the side of congress.

An agreement upon a $3,227,915 compromise increase in prohibitive enforcement funds apparently ended the controversy in passing the $230,000,000 first and second deficiency appropriation bills. Progress was reported on the controversy halting the $285,000,000 in territory appropriation bill. The $18,000,000 legislative appropriation bill will be slipped through Monday.

The only bill in the appropria-tionment was the possibility of fight against the compromise over income tax refund publicly placed in the second deficiency bill by the senate. If Senator McKellar (D, of Tennessee, author of the original) publicly clause, opposed the compromise a new filibuster would be launched and the whole harmony program discarded. Administration leaders, however, reported McKellar satisfied.

Scenes of desolation followed in the wake of a "twister" which swept through Texas and parts of Mississippi, claiming more than 40 lives and unestimated property damage. The lives were lost, and below is Grand Prairie,

6,220,790 Cigarettes Were Smoked In Circleville in 1928, Report Shows

Fags Consumed Here, Placed
End to End, Would Reach 270 Miles.

How many cigarettes were smoked in Circleville in 1928?

From the statistics just issued by the Internal Revenue Bureau, many interesting things can be figured out.

In the United States, during the last year, 105,915,165,014 cigarettes were smoked—at least they were bought, as the tax returns show.
Now, the estimated population of the country is 120,013,000. Of that number 7,049 live here in Circleville.
Dividing 112,013,000 by 7,049 gives 17,026. Then all one has to do to discover how many cigarettes have been smoked here in Circleville is to divide 105,915, 165,014 by 17,026. The result is 6,220,790 were smoked in 1928 in Circleville.

Perhaps Circleville went a little over its quota or a little under, but that is the number which should have been smoked here if it did its exact share in the cigaret consumption of the year.

That the use of cigarets has grown amazingly is shown by these figures. In 1927 which had been looked on as a banner year, 97,176,607,484 cigarettes were sold.
That means that the increase for 1928 was 3,739,337,530. If that number is divided by the percentage of Circleville's population to that of the United States, it will be seen that 506,383 more cigarets were smoked here in 1928 than in the preceding year, always supposing that Circleville consumes its exact per capita share.

Figuring the length of a cigaret as 2 3/4 inches, the distance covered by the cigarettes smoked in this city during 1928 would be 17, 107,172 1/2 inches, or 475,199 2 yds.

CHILLICOTHE FIRM GIVEN CONTRACT

Contract for the construction of sanitary sewers on Ohio, Clinton, Pickaway and Union-sts. and Edinburgh has been awarded to Brewer & Brewer Sons of Chillicothe on a bid of $4,503.15, by the Circleville board of public works according to the announcement made Saturday by Secretary Department L. E. M. at the city council meeting.

Other bidders on the work included W. E. Ringwald, Chillicothe, C. F. Riedelberger, Columbus,
G. F. T. Myers, Westerville,
J. W. M. Jones, John A.
Coxsack and A. C. When & S.
Circleville.

FARMER LOSES LEG BLASTING STUMPS

NEW LEXINGTON, O., March 2.—
David Wainwright, 33, farmer of near Crooksville was suffering from the loss of an arm and leg today resulting from a charge of dynamite exploding when he was blasting tree stumps. Wainwright, after planting the charge
under a stump went back to examine it when it failed to explode.
As he reached the stump the dynamite blew him blowing an arm and a leg from his body.

ARTHUR HYDE IS CHOSEN AS AG SECRETARY

Former Governor of Missouri, Practical Farmer, Hoover-er's Choice.

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, March 2.—The cabinet of President Hoover today was completed with the selection of Robert Lamont of Chicago, to be secretary of commerce.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The selection of ex-governor Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri, to be secretary of agriculture, left only one member of the Hoover cabinet to be identified today.

A secretary of commerce has been chosen, but his identity yet remains secret. It probably will become known before Mr. Hoover submits his cabinet slate to the senate Monday noon.

Hyde's selection was one of the two "surprises" forecast by the Hoover aides earlier in the week.
The secretary of commerce is the other.

LOWDEN SUPPORTER.
The Missourian had not figured prominently in the cabinet speculation at all, chiefly because he was of that wing of the party that favored the nomination of Frank O. Lowden at Kansas City last June.

The special session of the new congress, to be called on April 10, is to deal primarily with but two matters, farm relief and tariff revision. Whatever form of farm relief congress prescribes, its administration will be in the hands of Gov. Hyde. Hence the post will be the cynosure of western eyes for some time to come.

Gov. Hyde is 51 years old. He was governor of Missouri from 1920 to 1924, and at the Cleveland convention in '24 was mentioned for the vice presidency which ultimately went to Charles G. Dawes. He was a Roosevelt follower in the split of 1912.

PRACTICAL FARMER.
The Missourian is a practical farmer as well as an executive, and business man. He owns several farms in Missouri, besides conducting an insurance business in Kansas City. He is conspicuously dry, having taken the dry side of the question in his gubernatorial contest at a time when Missouri was considered wet.

Meanwhile, the "guessing" contest as to the secretaryship of commerce, the sole mystery of the Hoover cabinet now, continued with increased velocity today.
Fully a score of names were suggested, only to have Mr. Hoover's aides shake their heads in nega-tion. The post is going to a man, it was said, who, like Gov. Hyde, has not figured prominently in cabinet discussion. There are a dozen men in Washington for the inaugural festivities who have been mentioned for the job.

TRIP OF GOOD WILL STARTED

Mexican Aviator Bearing Message To Hoover On Non-Stop Flight.

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—Bearing a message of good will from President Emilio Portes Gil to President elect Herbert Hoover of the United States, Mexico's foremost commercial aviation ace, Joaquin Gonzales Pacheco, hopped off at Valbuena field for Washington at 6:46 o'clock this morning.

The avian hoped to make the entire flight without a stop. His machine ran about a mile and then gracefully took the air and disappeared in the midst over the mountains. It was headed in the direction of Tampico—the route always followed by Col. Lindbergh on his flights in and out of Mexico.

Pacheco shouted "good-by" to the foreign correspondents who were gathered at the field.
"I will be in Washington in time for the inauguration," he added.

COOLIDGE OKAYS JONES LIQUOR BILL

WASHINGTON, March 2.—President Coolidge today signed the draconic Jones prohibition bill, thus making it a law.
Under its provisions, violations of the Volstead act now become felonies and as such are punishable by prison sentences of five years and fines up to $10,000.
Applicable alike to first offenders or hardened offenders.

BEEF CYCLE IS AT TOP PRICES

Poor Time For New Men To Enter Cattle Industry,
Expert Says.

COLUMBUS, O., March 2.—
When an industry is near the top of its price cycle, that is a poor time for inexperienced men to enter it. Such a situation apparently exists at present in the beef cattle industry, according to C. R. Arnold of the rural economics department of the Ohio State university.

"We have been decreasing the number of cattle for the past eight years. On Jan. 1, of this year we had a very slight increase in the total number of cattle on farms, over a year ago. This is the first year that number of cattle had not decreased, during the past nine years," says Arnold.

"In all probability we will increase the number of cattle during the next few years. However, supplying a deficiency in the number of beef cattle for the country as a whole is rather a slow process. In the past, a complete beef cattle cycle has usually extended over a period of about 15 years. Every indication points toward the fact that we are now just about at the bottom of the beef cattle production cycle.

"The high price for dairy cows as well as beef cattle, and the good demand for veal, indicates that cattle will remain fairly high-priced during the next few years. One of the greatest dangers in such a situation, however, is that many men will begin to stock up with high-priced breeding cattle during the next year or so, and possibly get ready to sell some of this stock after a few years when the market again becomes oversupplied.

"Men who are already in the beef cattle business, have prospects for a few good years ahead of them. At least their outlook appears better than it has at any time during the past seven years.
However, the top of a price cycle is a poor point for new men to jump in."

USE DYNAMITE TO PROTECT SCHOOL

NEW STRATTSVILLE, O., Mar.
2.—A dynamite blast today saved from possible destruction a school and several homes on the outskirts of this village.
The school had been menaced by the big tree which stood close to the building. A few days ago the tree was dynamited and dynamite was placed under the tree. The tree had been a menace to the school and homes for some time.

CRUSHED IN TRENCH

ZANESVILLE, O., March 2.—
Jacob McCord, 50, of Lexington, was in a hospital here today suffering from possible internal injuries. He was injured here when he was crushed under a beam under a street by several tons of dirt.

OUT OF HOSPITAL

LONDON, March 2.—R. E. Hooper, 61, of London, general manager of the Motion Picture Co. who underwent an operation for appendicitis on Feb. 15 at Grant hospital, Columbus, has been brought to his home here.

SPUD RAISERS OF COUNTY TO HAVE MEETING

Melon and General Truck
Growers To Participate
In Conference.

Potato, melon and general truck crop growers will meet at the Farm Bureau office on next Tuesday, March 3, promptly at 10 a. m. This will be an annual round-up of truck growers throughout the county. A very interesting and profitable program has been arranged by a committee of melon growers and truckers. The program will start promptly at 10 a. m. and conclude at 3 p. m..

The program includes the following talks: "The Problems of Profitable Potato Growing," E. R. Lancashire; "Spraying and Dusting to Control Potato Diseases and Insect Enemies," T. H. Parks; "Truck Crop Insect Enemies and Their Control," M. P. Jones; "Truck Crop Diseases," E. R. Lancashire.

Pickaway-co soils and the location both afford local potato growers and melon growers and truckers great possibilities. During the last few years insect pests and disease enemies have been rapidly increasing. It is the object of the above program to assist growers in meeting some of these problems.

ONLY ONE MEETING
There will be only one such meeting in the county this year. The committee has been very fortunate in securing specialists from the Ohio State university who have practical experience and training in their particular field of work.

The morning program will be devoted primarily to the problems surrounding potato growing. Potato growers should be sure to attend the morning session. They will be welcome to stay in the afternoon also if interested in the program. The afternoon session has been outlined primarily for melon growers and truck crop growers and will emphasize those measures of disease and insect control confronting the melon raiser and trucker. Fertilization of all truck crops will be discussed throughout the program.

WEDDING MAY BE ON SUNDAY

Lindbergh and Fiancee Go To Morrow Country Estate
In Mexico.

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Miss Anne Spencer Morrow, his fiancée, today were to motor to Cuernavaca to spend the weekend at the Morrow estate there.

They will depart leaving all sorts of rumors behind them. Prominent among these is one to the effect that when they return they will be husband and wife. There are other rumors along similar lines, some even saying the minister has been picked and tomorrow set as the date.

Standing in the face of these rumors is the recent flat statement from the American embassy that the date and place of the wedding will be formally announced in due time by Ambassador and Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, parents of the bride-to-be who are accompanying the betrothed couple to Cuernavaca today.

This city, however, is all agog over the romantic possibilities of an unannounced wedding at the beautiful country estate of the Morrrows, hence the persistence of the rumors.

The famous airman and Miss Morrow spent a pleasant day yesterday driving out to the hacienda of Don Antonio Riba Cervantes at Toluca, fifty miles from here. Don Cervantes, although 75 years of age, is an ardent aviation enthusiast and an owner of several planes which he pilots himself.

Light beams caused music to play, a magnet directing its power from heat supported a man without a court order, 500,000 volts "enough to electrocute everybody in the room," crackled and thundered, and a rabbit's egg was revealed with the original cell splitting up and re-splitting.

BLUSH IS FOUND
But to Broadway, these tricky presentations were a detail. What caused the big buzz was the measurement of a chorus girl's blush by an instrument called the thermopile.

Neither was it exactly the measuring by Dr. E. E. Free of the radiant heat from the velvet skin of a chorus girl which woke up Broadway.

It was the riddle—can anybody find a chorus girl who blushes?

Well, they did.

Her name is Joanna Allen. She is 21, with hair like white gold, and prettier than a picture. "I don't think so many chorus girls blush but there are still a few of us left," said pretty Joanna.

Joanna stood in the midst of sparking machinery on the platform beside the professor.

She is 123 pounds of atoms and scientifically symmetrical.

AND SHE BLUSHED!
The professor brought the thermopile closer and closer to the lily-like cheek of Joanna.

Under the flood of klieg lights you could see the rose-like flush mantle Joanna's cheeks. Movie cameras were grinding.

The stunt had clicked and everybody was highly pleased.

"What made you blush?" Joanna was asked.

"Just as they started taking my picture. I got a run in my stocking—can you beat it?" said Joanna, with tears in her pretty eyes.

NEW HOLLAND WILL FETE CAGE PLAYERS

The business men of New Holland will entertain the members of the basketball teams of that town at a banquet next Friday night, March 8, at which County Superintendent M. C. Warren and all the basketball coaches in Pickaway-co will be among the guests.

An elaborate dinner especially prepared for young appetites will be served to the guests with a movie party at The New Holland theater following. After the theater the players will then be entertained at a dance in the town hall. Tickets are already on sale at all of the business houses in New Holland.

LECTURE ARRANGED

Sunday night at the Presbyterian church there will be a showing of 60 colored slides illustrating the World ministry of the Presbyterian church. The Presbyterian church has a direct responsibility for one hundred million of the world's population. This will be a personally conducted world tour, touching only the outstanding stations. All interested in learning more of what the church is doing in the world are invited to attend.

FREED FROM JAIL

Lester Sells, sent to the Pickaway-co jail from the federal court at Columbus to serve out a $50 fine on a liquor charge, was released Saturday when his time expired.

ABDUCTED IRONTON GIRL IS LOCATED

IRONTON, O., March 2.—Eloise Milan, the 8-year-old girl who was abducted from a school here, was back in the home of her father, Elmer Milan, today.

After being missing for three days, the girl was located by her father at the home of Mrs. Jeanette Milan, his divorced wife, at Kenova, W. Va.

Milan, who had filed kidnapping charges against his former wife, dropped them, informing officers Mrs. Milan had promised to never again molest any of the three children, and to allow a 10-year-old son to return to his father.

SAYS WIFE'S LOVE WORTH $300,000

COLUMBUS, O., March 2.—Three hundred thousand dollars is the valuation which Floyd B. Day, of Columbus, placed on the love of his wife.

Suit, for damages to that amount, had today been filed by the local man against Mrs. Zesta Griess, his mother-in-law, who, Day avers, caused his wife to leave him. The mother-in-law is also blamed for the mother taking their child away from the father, five days after she deserted him.

MONROE-TWP, SALT CREEK IN WIN COLUMN

Two Pickaway-co Teams Gain
Victories At Delaware
Tournament.

DELAWARE, O., March 2.—Columbus East, Marion Harding, Mt. Vernon, and Delaware high schools today are survivors of the Central Ohio Class A. basketball tournament being held here at Ohio Wesleyan university.

Two Columbus schools fought it out first, with East high topping West, 28 to 20. Mount Vernon's win over Lancaster was the feature on last night's card. Lancaster took the lead early but Mount slowly crept up, until at the half, only one point was lacking on Mount's side to make it a tie. The two teams were deadlocked at the end of the third quarter, 17-all. A rally in the last few minutes of play, put Mt. Vernon ahead with a one-point victory, 22 to 21.

LOW SCORE SURPRISE
Delaware's win over Westerville was to be expected, but the unusual low score was a surprise. Delaware won, 14 to 9.

In the last game of the evening, Marion Harding downed Columbus Bexley, after a close, hard-fought game, 19 to 16. The half ended 10 to 6 with Harding on top, but the Columbus boys staged a comeback, and made it 12 to 12 at the third period. Woodward's loss or fouls, crippled Bexley, however, and Marion took the game.

Play will be resumed again this afternoon in Class A, with the following pairings: Columbus Central vs. Delaware; Mt. Vernon vs. Newark; Columbus South vs. Columbus East; Marion Harding vs. Columbus Aquinas.

In Class B circles, London, Salt Creek, Watkins, Monroe, Hyatts, Plain City, Grandview, Marion St. Marys, Millersport, Upper Arlington, Cardington, Marysville, Pickerington, Kirkersville and Grabville survived the first round.

CIRCLEVILLE BEATEN
Circleville, yesterday, was erroneously reported to have defeated the strong London team but the Tigers were beaten, 48 to 21. New Holland, champions of Pickaway-co, was defeated, 25 to 23, by Cardington. Monroe-twp beat Morral, 28 to 12, while Salt Creek defeated Magnetic Springs, 29 to 21. Stoutsville lost to Marion St. Marys, 29 to 21.

Interest in yesterday's games was centered on Marysville last year's district champs, who played Lancaster St. Marys. Marysville survived by virtue of one point victory, 17 to 16.

Games in Class B today are as follows: London vs. Watkins; Monroe vs. Hyatts; Plain City vs. Grandview; Marion St. Marys vs. Millersport; Upper Arlington vs. Cardington; Marysville vs. Monroe; Kirkersville vs. Pickerington; Granville vs. Salt Creek.

CONGRESS HAS BIG JOB AHEAD

Tremendous Number of Bills
To Be Enacted Before
Adjournment.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—A half billion dollars in appropriation bills, a hundred other minor bills and hundreds of presidential appointments stood between the dying seventeenth congress today and a peaceful adjournment at noon Monday.

The legislative pathway seemed clear of obstacles to final enactment of the appropriation bills with all filibusters silenced for the moment. Scores of other bills will be jammed through in the closing hours by unanimous consent.

The presidential nominations alone seemed to be sentenced to death by the side of congress.

An agreement upon a $3,227,914 compromise increase in prohibition enforcement funds apparently ended the controversy involving the $230,000,000 first and second deficiency appropriation bills. Progress was reported on the controversy halting the $286,000,000 in revenue appropriation bill. The $18,000,000 legislative appropriation bill will be slipped through Monday.

The only fly in the appropriation ointment was the possibility of fight against the compromise over income tax refund publicity placed in the second deficiency bill by the senate. If Senator McKellar (D) of Tennessee, author of the original publicity clause, opposed the compromise, a new filibuster would be launched and the whole harmony program discarded. Administration leaders, however, reported McKellar satisfied.

6,220,790 Cigarettes Were Smoked In Circleville in 1928, Report Shows

Fags Consumed Here, Placed
End to End, Would Reach
270 Miles.

How many cigarettes were smoked in Circleville in 1928?

From the statistics just issued by the Internal Revenue Bureau, many interesting things can be figured out.

For instance:
In the United States, during the last year, 105,915,165,014 cigarettes were smoked—at least they were bought, as the tax returns show. Now, the estimated population of the country is 120,013,000. Of that number 7,049 live here in Circleville. Dividing 1120,013,000 by 7,049 gives 17,026. Then all one has to do to discover how many cigarettes have been smoked here in Circleville is to divide 105,915,165,014 by 17,026. The result is 6,220,790 were smoked in 1928 in Circleville.

Perhaps Circleville went a little over its quota or a little under, but that is the number which should have been smoked here if it did its exact share in the cigaret consumption of the year.

That the use of cigarets has grown amazingly is shown by these figures. In 1927 which had been looked on as a banner year, 97,176,607,484 cigarettes were sold. That means that the increase for 1928 was 8,739,357,530. If that number is divided by the percentage of Circleville's population to that of the United States, it will be seen that 506,583 more cigarettes were smoked here in 1928 than in the preceding year, always supposing that Circleville consumes its exact per capita share.

Figuring the length of a cigaret as 2 3/4 inches, the distance covered by the cigarets smoked in this city during 1928 would be 17,107,172.5 inches, or 475,199.2 yds.

CHILLICOTHE FIRM GIVEN CONTRACT

Contract for the construction of sanitary sewers on Ohio, Clinton, Pickaway and Union-sts and Edison-ave has been awarded to Brewer & Brewer Sons, of Chillicothe, on it bid of $4,803.15 by the Circleville board of control, according to the announcement made Saturday by Service Director L. E. Miller. Work will start within two weeks.

Other bidders for the work included: W. E. Ringwald, Chillicothe; C. F. Reichelderfer, Columbus; George T. Myers, Wesley Justus, W. M. Justus, John A. Coakley and A. C. Wilson & Son, Circleville.

FARMER LOSES LEG BLASTING STUMPS

NEW LEXINGTON, O., March 2.—David Wainwright, 53, farmer of near Crooksville, was suffering from the loss of an arm and leg today, resulting from a charge of dynamite exploding when he was blasting tree stumps. Wainwright, after placing the charge under a stump, went back to examine it when it failed to explode. As he neared the stump, the dynamite let go, blowing an arm and a leg from his body.

or 270 miles, that is if the cigarets had been laid end to end.

The figures for the country were so large that they have attracted unusual attention and experts have been asked to give their opinions as to the unprecedented increase in sales of cigarets. They say improved taste of cigarets through important factors are the increase of smoking among women, the use of milder and better tobacco and the new heating process which removes elements which irritate the throat.

COOLIDGE UP WITH DUTIES

President Will Leave Desk
Clear For His Successor
Monday.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—When President Coolidge leaves his desk on the morning of March 4 it will be as "clean as a hound's tooth."

Calvin Coolidge, probably the most methodical president who has ever held the reins over the American people, came to his office early today, looked over his mail, read the newspapers, and embarked on the final working day of his administration.

Numerous callers were on the list and one of the largest hand-shaking crowds that has appeared in some weeks, engaged the president's attention during the morning hours.

Tonight he and Mrs. Coolidge will entertain the members of the cabinet and their wives at dinner in the state dining room. It will be the last function for his official family and the president and Mrs. Coolidge will bid farewell to the ladies of the cabinet.

The president will tell his cabinet goodbye in the president's room at the capitol shortly before noon.

On Sunday night, the President and Mrs. Coolidge will give a state dinner in honor of the President-elect and Mrs. Hoover, vice President-elect Curtis, and his sister, Mrs. E. F. Gann. This will be the last social function before the Coolidges retire to private life.

TELEPHONE'S SISTER THEN SHOOT'S SELF

LIMA, O., March 2.—Walter C. Grimm, 25, called his sister, Miss Mable Grimm, on the telephone, and while she had the receiver to her ear, fired a shot through his head, here late yesterday.

According to police, Grimm, speaking over the phone, told his sister that he was going to kill himself and after cautioning her to listen, committed suicide.

BEEF CYCLE IS AT TOP PRICES

Poor Time For New Men To Enter Cattle Industry,
Expert Says.

COLUMBUS, O., March 2.—When an industry is near the top of its price cycle, that is a poor time for inexperienced men to enter it. Such a situation apparently exists at present in the beef cattle industry, according to C. R. Arnold of the rural economics department of the Ohio State university.

"We have been decreasing the number of cattle for the past eight years. On Jan. 1, of this year we had a very slight increase in the total number of cattle on farms, over a year ago. This is the first year that number of cattle had not decreased, during the past nine years," says Arnold.

"In all probability we will increase the number of cattle during the next few years. However, supplying a deficiency in the number of beef cattle for the country as a whole is rather a slow process. In the past, a complete beef cattle cycle has usually extended over a period of about 15 years. Every indication points toward the fact that we are now just about at the bottom of the beef cattle production cycle.

"The high price for dairy cows as well as beef cattle, and the good demand for veal, indicates that cattle will remain fairly high-priced during the next few years. One of the greatest dangers in such a situation, however, is that many men will begin to stock up with high-priced breeding cattle during the next year or so, and possibly get ready to sell some of this stock after a few years when the market again be oversupplied.

"Men who are already in the beef cattle business, have prospects for a few good years ahead of them. At least their outlook appears better than it has at any time during the past seven years. However, the top of a price cycle is a poor point for new men to jump in."

USE DYNAMITE TO PROTECT SCHOOL

NEW STRATTSVILLE, O., Mar. 2.—Dynamiting had today saved from possible destruction a school and several homes on the outskirts of this village.

The buildings had been menaced by the 45-year-old mine fire which broke through the surface a few days ago. The smouldering grate was dynamited shut by miners. Through it flames had leaped many feet into the air, and lethal gas had poured forth.

The dynamiting was accomplished without any damage to any of the buildings.

OUT OF HOSPITAL

LONDON, March 2.—R. B. Howard of London, general manager of the Madison Press Co. who underwent an operation for appendicitis on Feb. 15 at Grant hospital, Columbus, has been brought to his home here.

ARTHUR HYDE IS CHOSEN AS AG SECRETARY

Former Governor of Missouri, Practical Farmer, Hoover's Choice.

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, March 2.—The cabinet of President-Elect Hoover was completed today with the selection of Robert Lamont of Chicago, to be secretary of commerce.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The selection of ex-governor Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri, to be secretary of agriculture, left only one member of the Hoover cabinet to be identified today.

A secretary of commerce has been chosen, but his identity yet remains secret. It probably will become known before Mr. Hoover submits his cabinet slate to the senate Monday noon.

Hyde's selection was one of the two "surprises" forecast by the Hoover aides earlier in the week. The secretary of commerce is the other.

LOWDEN SUPPORTER.
The Missourian had not figured prominently in the cabinet speculation at all, chiefly because he was of that wing of the party that favored the nomination of Frank O. Lowden at Kansas City last June.

The special session of the new congress, to be called on April 10, is to deal primarily with but two matters, farm relief and tariff revision. Whatever form of farm relief congress prescribes, its administration will be in the hands of Gov. Hyde. Hence the post will be the cynosure of western eyes for some time to come.

Gov. Hyde is 51 years old. He was governor of Missouri from 1920 to 1924, and at the Cleveland convention in '24 was mentioned for the vice presidency which ultimately went to Charles G. Dawes. He was a Roosevelt follower in the split of 1912.

PRACTICAL FARMER
The Missourian is a practical farmer as well as an executive, and business man. He owns several farms in Missouri, besides conducting an insurance business in Kansas City. He is conspicuously dry, having taken the dry side of the question in his gubernatorial contest at a time when Missouri was considered wet.

Meanwhile, the "guessing" contest as to the secretaryship of commerce, the sole mystery of the Hoover cabinet now, continued with increased velocity today. Fully a score of names were suggested, only to have Mr. Hoover's aides shake their heads in negation. The post is going to a man, it was said, who, like Gov. Hyde, has not figured prominently in cabinet discussion. There are a dozen men in Washington for the inaugural festivities who have been mentioned for the job.

TRIP OF GOOD WILL STARTED

Mexican Aviator Bearing Message To Hoover On Non-
Stop Flight.

MEXICO CITY, March 2.—Bearing a message of good will from President Emilio Portes Gil to President-elect Herbert Hoover of the United States, Mexico's foremost commercial aviation ace, Joaquin Gonzales Pacheco, hopped off at Valbuena field for Washington at 6:46 o'clock this morning.

The airman hoped to make the entire flight without a stop. His machine ran about a mile and then gracefully took the air and disappeared in the midst over the mountains. It was headed in the direction of Tampico—the route always followed by Col. Lindbergh on his flights in and out of Mexico.

Pacheco shouted "good-by" to the foreign correspondents who were gathered at the field.

"I will be in Washington in time for the inauguration," he added.

COOLIDGE OKAYS JONES LIQUOR BILL

WASHINGTON, March 2.—President Coolidge today signed the drastic Jones prohibition bill, thus making it a law.

Under its provisions, violations of the Volstead act now become felonies and as such are punishable by prison sentences of five years and fines up to $10,000, applicable alike to first offenders or hardened old offenders.

Edwin Markham in answer to a request for a message to ministers says, "Tell them for me that they are engaged in the greatest occupation on earth—the business of carrying the message of the Comrade, Christ, to humanity."

Tell them too that they, too are poets and that they come from a long line of poetic ancestry; that they are the representatives of

Poet David, Poet Isaiah and Poet Jesus Christ and that is a holy occupation."

Granting the truth, that the ministers are engaged in the greatest business on earth, then they are deserving the encouragement and assistance of all men. Why not accept the invitation and GO TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY.

Church Forum

(Send problems in question form to Church editor; answers will appear in later issue.)

1.—How may church and Sunday school news be prepared in such form that it will appeal to a busy editor? Three fundamental rules have been found essential in the preparation of church "copy" for the press. First, identify yourself with the local paper by reading it carefully and establish a personal contact that will engender mutual confidence. Report such news of general interest that may reach you, at least giving good leads for stories. The editor's appreciation for such help will go a long way in establishing mutual confidence and in making it easy to have your church news accepted. Secondly, carefully distinguish between church and particularly denominational "propaganda" and real significant news. There is an unconscious tendency for self advertising or for self praise in much of the copy sent to newspapers. Significant news must be interesting to the majority of newspaper readers and must have real news value—something out of the ordinary with real merit. Thirdly, follow newspaper technique in writing a "story" that will call for the minimum amount of editorial revision, so well written that the editor will say, "I can't cut your stories without running them." The technique of the newspaper has to do with style or writing, spelling, methods of abbreviating titles, conciseness of language, absence of comparisons and superlatives having indirect reflections and arrangement of facts. It would pay to study newspaper technique, which can be done by studying good newspapers and by reading books written on the subject.

Church building is one of the greatest enterprises in the United States, according to a recent report by Dr. Albert F. McGarr, director of the Department of Building Fund Campaigns of the Presbyterian Board of National Missions, who has just raised $3,500,000 in the last three months for building of fifty churches. The average income of one million dollars per month for church building enterprises indicates that there is no let down in the great church building movement which has swept over the country since the close of the World war.

A service has been planned by the Episcopal church of St. Mark's in the Bowery, New York City in honor of Michelangelo, whose birthday occurs March 6th. Michelangelo, greatest of artists and sculptors, created St. Peter's cathedral, the glory of Rome. His statues of "Moses" and "St. Peter in Chains" are proofs of his genius as a sculptor.

The best things are not bought and sold.

A Beautiful Swiss Custom

One of the most beautiful customs which has been in vogue for centuries is that practised by the Alpine herdsmen of Switzerland when the light of day is waning and the sun sinks in the west.

Just as the last rays of the sun are disappearing, and the golden glow is reflected on the white mountain tops, the herdsmen living on the highest mountain peak takes his Alpine horn and calls loudly, "Praise the Lord God! Praise the Lord God!" As soon as these words are heard by the neighboring herdsmen below, he takes his Alpine horn and relays the call to his neighbor. Down the mountain side the call goes, sounding like some wonderful echo and lasting for about a quarter of an hour. When silence falls every herdsmen kneels by his flock, in evening devotions. Finally when devotions are over, the herdsmen living on the highest ridge again calls, "Good-night! Good-night!" and this call is in turn carried down the mountainside, and with this last thought of gratitude and praise for their Maker, the herdsmen drift back to their cottages and all is silent.

Vs. 4, 5, 6—"There is one body, and one Spirit, even as also ye were called in one hope of our calling." The One Holy Spirit, who drew the members of the church to Christ, continues to animate them, and to fuse them into one body.

V. 11—"And he gave some to be apostles, some prophets, and some evangelists and some pastors and teachers." The range of Christian workers is enlarging; the work of the church may be carried on outside the church organization.

V. 12—"For the perfecting of the saints, unto the building up of the body of Christ." The function of the church is to develop character to the highest point of perfection, to direct, individual activity and to make the church more perfect as God's means of self-expression.

Vs. 13-16—"But speaking the truth in love, may grow up in all things into him, who is the head, even Christ." The force of truth and love as exhibited in Christ will effect relationships of his followers which naturally form that kind of a society through which God can work among men.

Denying a fault doubles it.

World Religious News

The Presbytery of New York at a recent meeting unanimously passed a resolution recommending the union of the Presbyterian Methodist Episcopal and Protestant Episcopal churches. This would bring into one religious group a total church membership of more than 2,000,000 people.

Church building is one of the greatest enterprises in the United States, according to a recent report by Dr. Albert F. McGarr, director of the Department of Building Fund Campaigns of the Presbyterian Board of National Missions, who has just raised $3,500,000 in the last three months for building of fifty churches. The average income of one million dollars per month for church building enterprises indicates that there is no let down in the great church building movement which has swept over the country since the close of the World war.

A service has been planned by the Episcopal church of St. Mark's in the Bowery, New York City in honor of Michelangelo, whose birthday occurs March 6th. Michelangelo, greatest of artists and sculptors, created St. Peter's cathedral, the glory of Rome. His statues of "Moses" and "St. Peter in Chains" are proofs of his genius as a sculptor.

The Church Invites You

Edwin Markham in answer to a request for a message to ministers says, "Tell them for me that they are engaged in the greatest occupation on earth—the business of carrying the message of the Comrade, Christ, to humanity."

Tell them too that they, too are poets and that they come from a long line of poetic ancestry; that they are the representatives of

Poet David, Poet Isaiah and Poet Jesus Christ and that is a holy occupation."

Granting the truth, that the ministers are engaged in the greatest business on earth, then they are deserving the encouragement and assistance of all men. Why not accept the invitation and GO TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY.

Church Forum

(Send problems in question form to Church editor; answers will appear in later issue.)

1.—How may church and Sunday school news be prepared in such form that it will appeal to a busy editor? Three fundamental rules have been found essential in the preparation of church "copy" for the press. First, identify yourself with the local page by reading it carefully and establish a personal contact that will engender mutual confidence. Report such news of general interest that may reach you, at least giving good leads for stories. The editor's appreciation for such help will go a long way in establishing mutual confidence and in making it easy to have your church news accepted. Secondly, carefully distinguish between church and particularly denominational "propaganda" and real significant news. There is an unconscious tendency for self advertising or for self praise in much of the copy sent to newspapers. Significant news must be interesting to the majority of newspaper readers and must have real news value—something out of the ordinary with real merit. Thirdly, follow newspaper technique in writing a "story" that will call for the minimum amount of editorial revision, so well written that the editor will say, "I can't cut your stories without ruining them." The technique of the newspaper has to do with style of writing, spelling, methods of abbreviating titles, conciseness of language, absence of comparisons and superlatives having indirect reflections and arrangement of facts. It would pay to study newspaper technique, which can be done by studying good newspapers and by reading books written on the subject.

YAGLE SECOND SPEED ENTRY

Philadelphian Places Rear Drive Car In Indianapolis Race Meet.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., March 2.—M. A. Yagle, of Philadelphia, has made the second entry for the 17th annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, next Memorial Day. The only other entry to precede that of Yagle was the one made by Cliff Bergere. Yagle has named a rear drive car which has a long history, the Simplex J. Last year the car was driven by Ray Keech at the Indianapolis race, but the Simplex Piston Ring Special.

Yagle has not named a driver in his entry and it is a question whether Keech or some other pilot will handle the car. This is the racing car that the late Frank Lockhart used to "burn" up the field at Indianapolis in 1927 when his speed was so great that by the time the 300-mile mark had been passed practically everyone of the fast cars in qualifications had been eliminated. In the fall of the same year on the North Randall track at Cleveland, Lockhart, with seeming ease, shattered every dirt track record from one to 100 miles. With Lockhart at the wheel the first mile was made at an average of 85.816 miles an hour and the complete 100 at an average of 80.817.

When Keech took the car for the 500-mile race last year, he was fresh from his triumph at Daytona Beach, where he had driven White's Triplex to a world's record of 207.552 miles an hour. He made a game drive throughout the race but mechanical troubles occurred which put him in fourth place. During the season he campaigned the car for Yagle on all the speedways and in six starts, won three firsts, one fourth and was unplaced in one event, giving him second position to Champion Louis Meyer, in the season's races, with a point score of 915.

CHARMING BATHING GIRLS AT CLIFTONA

The world's most beautiful bathing girls are coming to the Cliftona theater for a special engagement Tuesday and Wednesday, March 5 and 6. Glorious girls representing France, Russia, Austria, Germany, England, Poland, Belgium and the United States comprise the feature of this extraordinary stage attraction. This bevy of attractive European and American beauties is selected after a civic search the various cities of the Old World, through the medium of newspapers and city commission committees.

Each of the girls are of the distinct type of beauty peculiar to country she represents. To American eye, they will appear most interesting, because of contrasting appearance. The features are very striking and make a picture that every artist aims of painting, but seldom is such a model.

They will be the outstanding feature of a special gorgeous show, lingerie and bathing beauty which includes a number of clever singers, dancers and comedians.

Mothers' Books Are On Shelves At City Library

Never before has the Circleville public library had such a large number of new and excellent books as at the present time. More and more the readers of Circleville are coming to appreciate the access to this wealth of literature, as the recent records show.

One of the best features of the Circleville library is the variety of reading material. There are books there for every one and they are the last word in many subjects that are particularly interesting at the moment, or in dealing with the oldest and most established characters and themes from George Washington to learning how to fly an airplane.

To meet a very decided popularity in books of interest to mothers, particularly those with reference to children of pre-school age. Recent additions include: "Our Children" and "The Young Child"; Blanton & Blanton, "Child Guidance"; De Schweinitz, Karl, "Growing Up"; Gesell, A. L., "The Pre-School Child"; Arlitt, A. H., "Psychology of Infancy and Early Childhood"; Gilbreth, L. E. M., "Living With Our Children"; MacMillan, Margaret, "The Nursery School"; Patri, Angelo, "School and Home"; Richardson, F. H.,

PERSONALS

Mrs. H. B. Given, Mrs. Ralph Wallace and Miss Lydia Given have returned from a two day's visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Baker at Torch, O., where Mrs. Given attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. S. M. Knowles.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Adams and Mr. Thomas Adams will motor to the coliseum in Columbus Saturday night to attend the Michigan-Chio State basketball game.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Armstrong of Laureville have returned to their home from New Orleans where they attended the Mardi Gras. Mr. Armstrong is reported to be seriously ill since his return.

State Secrets Hidden by Absorbent Roller
Every foreign office in Europe acts on the theory that an army of spies is constantly on the alert to steal its secrets, and infinite precautions are taken to baffle their efforts. Very shortly after the first use of blotting paper it was discovered that it was quite possible to cause a blotting pad to give up secrets by simply holding it in front of a mirror. Long after all the commercial world had forgotten the existence of such a thing, the British foreign office used a sand shaker to dry its important written documents, of which there are many despite the use of the type-writing machine. Then specially manufactured black blotting paper was used, but this was not found to be absolutely waterproof and a return to the sandshaker was contemplated when some one suggested the simple expedient of a small absorbent roller. These rollers have since been used for drying diplomatic documents. When such a roller has been run up and down and across a document once or twice, the cleverest spy in the world is at liberty to try his hand at deciphering the impressions.

THE "ROOSTER RAMBLE"
Zoe Carroll, dancer, who recently returned from France with the Albertina Rasch ballet, tries out a new dance with the celebrated rooster, "Mr. Pathe," as partner. "Mr. Pathe" won the grand prize at the Madison Square Garden Poultry Show in New York last year, as being the best original for the picture company's animated and vocal trademark. The bird not only boasts of seventeen different colors in his plumage, but also the much desired willingness to crow on request. It is suggested that Miss Carroll call her new dance the "Rooster Ramble."

YAGLE SECOND SPEED ENTRY

Philadelphia Places Rear Drive Car In Indianapolis Race Meet.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., March 2.—M. A. Yagle, of Philadelphia, has made the second entry for the 17th annual 500-mile International Sweepstakes of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, next Memorial Day. The only other entry to precede that of Yagle was the one made by Cliff Bergere. Yagle has named a rear drive car which has a record history, the Simplex 4. Last year the car was piloted by Ray Keech at the Indianapolis race, but as the Simplex Piston Ring Special.

Yagle has not named a driver in his entry and it is a question whether Keech or some other pilot will handle the car. This is the racing car that the late Frank Lockhart used to "burn" up the field at Indianapolis in 1927 when his speed was so great that by the time the 300-mile mark had been passed practically everyone of the fast cars in qualifications had been eliminated. In the fall of the same year on the North Randall track at Cleveland, Lockhart, with seeming ease, shattered every dirt track record from one to 100 miles. With Lockhart at the wheel the first mile was made at an average of 85.816 miles an hour and the complete 100 at an average of 80.817.

When Keech took the car for the 500-mile race last year, he was fresh from his triumph at Daytona Beach, where he had driven White's Triplex to a world's record of 207.552 miles an hour. He made a game drive throughout the race but mechanical troubles occurred which put him in fourth place. During the season he campaigned the car for Yagle on all the speedways and in six starts, won three firsts, one fourth one sixth and was unplaced in one event, giving him second position to Champion Louis Meyer, in the season's races, with a point score of 915.

CHARMING BATHING GIRLS AT CLIFTONA

The world's most beautiful bathing girls are coming to the Cliftona theater for a special engagement Tuesday and Wednesday, March 5 and 6. Glorious girls representing France, Russia, Austria, Germany, England, Poland, Belgium and the United States comprise the feature of an extraordinary stage attraction. This bevy of attractive European and American beauties selected after a civic search the various cities of the Old World, through the medium of newspapers and city commission committees.

Each of the girls are of the distinct type of beauty peculiar to country she represents. To American eye, they will appear most interesting, because of contrasting appearance. The ladies are very striking and make a picture that every artist aims of painting, but seldom is such a model.

They will be the outstanding feature of a special gorgeous show, lingerie and bathing beauty-revue which includes a number of clever singers, dancers and musicians.

Mothers' Books Are On Shelves At City Library

Never before has the Circleville public library had such a large number of new and excellent books as at the present time. More and more the readers of Circleville are coming to appreciate the access to this wealth of literature, as the recent records show.

One of the best features of the Circleville library is the variety of reading material. There are books there for every one and they are the last word in many subjects that are particularly interesting at the moment, or in dealing with the oldest and most established characters and themes from George Washington to learning how to fly an airplane.

To meet a very decided popularity in books of interest to mothers, particularly those with reference to children of pre-school age. Recent additions include: "Our Children" and "The Young Child"; Blanton and Blanton, "Child Guidance"; De Schweinitz, Karl, "Growing Up"; Gesell, A. L., "The Pre-School Child"; Arlitt, A. H., "Psychology of Infancy and Early Childhood"; Gilbreth, L. E. M., "Living With Our Children"; MacMillan, Margaret, "The Nursery School"; Patri, Angelo, "School and Home"; Richardson, F. H.,

PERSONALS

Mrs. H. B. Given, Mrs. Ralph Wallace and Miss Lydia Given have returned from a two day's visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Baker at Torch, O., where Mrs. Given attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. S. M. Knowles.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Adams and Mr. Thomas Adams will motor to the coliseum in Columbus Saturday night to attend the Michigan-Chio State basket ball game.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Armstrong of Laurelville have returned to their home from New Orleans where they attended the Mardi Gras. Mr. Armstrong is reported to be seriously ill since his return.

Mrs. J. R. Neal of Dayton motored to Circleville Friday to visit her sister, Mrs. Robert Bremer of N. Court-st.

OUR MASS PRODUCTION
An English business man, returning to his native shores after a visit to the United States, expressed himself thus about our system of mass production and installment buying:

"The people (of the United States) are spending their earnings in advance and must go on earning. But should the demand either at home or abroad fall off and employers begin to discharge men, what would happen? Installments would be lacking, and goods in various stages of wear and tear would be returned to the makers, or bad debts incurred, and the finance companies who hold the notes would lose much more than the fraction of one percent they are losing in that way now."

There is no question but that our present economic system is geared to a high speed. If it should suddenly be slowed down the consequences, undoubtedly, would be serious. Whether they would be as bad as this Englishman believes may be an open question; the matter, at all events, is one that deserves serious study by the most competent minds in the country.

GIFTS TO THE PRESIDENT

It took four big trucks to carry away President and Mrs. Coolidge's household stuff from the White House. Most of these possessions consisted of gifts presented by various admirers. These objects constituted only a small part of the presents made to the president and his wife, who are constantly receiving gifts in every conceivable form, not merely fine art objects, but things to eat, things to wear, etc., etc.

A president and his wife may feel that many of these gifts are carrying this spirit of appreciation a little too far, and they might wish that many of these gifts could go to people who really need them. Still they must prize all these offerings for the spirit in which they were given, which suggests the loyal attachment that the American people feel to all presidents, and a desire to render all possible assistance in their great task.

Keep youth longer!

cleanse the system of poisons

Two of the great enemies to youth and vitality are delayed elimination and intestinal poisons. To keep your self free from both these common difficulties will help you to stay young.

With the use of Nujol you can do it too. For Nujol absorbs body poisons and carries them off, preventing their absorption by the body. Nujol also softens the waste matter and brings about normal evacuation. It is harmless; contains no drugs or medicine. It won't cause gas or griping pains, or affect the stomach or kidneys. Every corner druggist has Nujol. Make sure you get the genuine. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay, get Nujol today.

About Gentle Art of Fishing

By RING LARDNER

To the Editor:

The undersigned wrote such a masterful article on instructions in regards to fishing a yr. ago that I have been ast to write another one and try to make it somewhere near twice as good.

I can't be all over the country at once but they say that from now on is the best time to fish in either fresh or salt water or both at the same time or both at the same time. The open season for the new kinds of fish which have been discovered since the last fishing article I wrote.

Would like to explain at the outset that I have long been a student of what I sometimes call the finley tribe and am known around home by a nickname I once gave myself, namely, the Piscatorial artist. Lots of people still call me Isaac Newton on acct. of the mastery I have got over the piscatorial profession.

Well to make a short story still shorter, the latest fish that can be caught in medium water, that is, half way between salt and fresh and vice versa, is the gefel. The nimrod must first lay on their back and read an evening paper. Along about five o'clock you bait your hook and cast it off the side of the boat or hammock or bicycle or whatever you was in to start with. The bait must be sage dressing out of a tin can. It will improve matters a good deal if the fisherman keeps reading the comic pictures of the paper and laughing aloud as that makes the gefel think he is not in earnest. Sometimes it is necessary to have two evening papers as the gefel don't always agree on which is the funniest picture. The first time Commodore Gallagher of the Knickerbocker Yacht club fished for gefel, he had about his three comic supplements and had to read one and a 1/2 before he even got a nibble. By that time both he and the gefel was laughing their heads off. That put them both on easy st.

Another fish that has recently been discovered in all kinds of waters and some kinds of milk is the prone. The word prone means laying down face forwards on your stomach and where is the section of the finley tribe got its name on acct. of it always lying down face forwards on its stomach. In order to catch them you have got to first wake them up and turn them over and ask them why they was laying on their stomach. It may be from cramps or something, but as soon as you find out then you know how to fish for them. If it was cramps you tell them some kind of indigestion tablets which I won't mention, no names on acct. of free advertising, but if that is what it was, they will get very grateful and turn over on their side and then is the time to grab them. A prone laying on their side is as helpless as one of Tunney's sparring partners.

In this connection it might be of interest to tell other Isaac Nimrod about my first experience in prone fishery. I had been out in a quail boat on Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, for three years, every day, trying to get a prone. They wouldn't even look at me. One day however, one of them got in misery and I called down to the bottom of the lake what is the matter. The prone rolled over and made the remark that it felt kind out of things as parties had been going on at the different mansions and cottages around the lake and it had not been invited to one.

Well, I says, you and I are in the same boat.

No, says the prone, we ain't but we will be.

With that, he jumped up and got in my boat. That is one way of catching a prone.

Another kind of fish that everybody is ravenous to grab is of them down our way is the month fish. This is four times as long as the weak fish and it takes four times as long to catch them but when you catch them you don't half to worry for another month. They are caught with a page out of a calendar, like for inst. if you are fishing in September, you bait your hook with the October page of the calendar and they will grab it, thinking they are going ahead somewhere.

A year from now I will give you another lesson in what I call the piscatorial art.

Colonial Bedsteads

The turn-up bedstead was popular in New England. "This," writes Alice Morse Earle, "was a strong frame filled with a network of rope, which was fastened at the head by hinges to the wall. By night the foot of the bed rested on two heavy legs. By day the frame, with its bed furnishings, was hooked up to the wall and covered with homespun curtains and doors. These beds were in the kitchen, the place chosen because the room was the warmest in the house."

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

IRENE ROBELINE married Guinn Holden, young and handsome Texas minister, shortly after Lilith, his first wife, died, leaving an infant Lilith. Irene, secretly in love with Guinn, had seen him practically snatched away by the beautiful blonde and coquettish Lilith, who had boasted of her ability to make Guinn propose to her. Instead of the love that Irene expected to enjoy to complete her happiness, she found always the unseen barrier of the dead Lilith haunting Holden's mind and enthroned in his heart. He spoiled the child, granting her every wish and fancy. Even when Irene's child came he referred to her as "Lilith's little sister." This was Tina, who grows up a dark-eyed, lovely child, sweet and thoughtful, but conscious of her secondary position to the beautiful Lilith in her father's heart. Irene ponders this poignant problem that has persisted during the years of marriage to Holden. Even Ross and Lundy, the boys, and little Patricia, the youngest, were similarly regarded by their father. How to supplant this "golden ghost" of the glorious dead Lilith was made doubly difficult because of the grown-up Lilith, who had not only her mother's beauty, but greater intellect to support her selfish desires and strengthen her hold on her father's affection. Graduated from college, Lilith tells her father she wishes to study voice in New York. Tina, too, wants to pursue an art course. "Lilith is the older," the father would reply when Irene remonstrated. Tina, however, was the favorite of Will Lundy, town doctor, who had been in love with Irene. Tina, hurt when Lilith doesn't want her at Roger Devereaux's house party, returns to Summer school. Lilith announces her engagement to Roger.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXVIII.
IRENE probed her own soul, as she stood there in the firelight. Had she been as good a mother to Lilith as she might? Now that the child was going out of the house, she longed to envelop her in love, to shelter her from every trial and temptation, to protect her from disappointment and hardship. "We'll give you the very nicest wedding we can manage, dear," she said unsteadily. "Yes, whatever you want," Guinn promised. Lilith smiled with faint amusement. "I'm afraid that wouldn't be possible."

The father's eyes were anxious. "What is it that you want, Lilith?" There was light scorn in her tone as she answered him: "Oh, all sorts of foolish things. Limousines with liveried chauffeurs, yachts lying at anchor in far harbors, great houses to live in and wonderful old gardens."

He laughed in relief, as he kissed her cheek. "I see you're only fooling, just dreaming romantic dreams, I was afraid at first there was something you really wanted and couldn't have. Those are only—possessions."

"To a preacher, yes. To a vain young girl, maybe not."

"Then you shouldn't have chosen a paragon to be born in," he said indulgently. Her red lips made a moue. "Maybe I shouldn't—if I'd been asked."

Irene watched her jealousy, resentful of the hurt she gave to Guinn. Was the girl deliberately cruel, or was she maybe not quite satisfied with this coming marriage, and so willing to inflict pain because she felt it?

Summer, then college and law school, and Europe in Summer. "I've thought of you a thousand times, Dan, and wondered if you'd never come home. I want to hear about everything. When can you come to see us?" Her voice had the enthusiasm of a girl, and her eyes held material affection for this young fellow she still thought of as a heartless, motherless boy. "I'm leaving tomorrow—here just for Christmas Day, with Dad. We're going to Mexico together and then for a longer jaunt perhaps."

"I'm glad you're going to be with your father. He needs his boy. Have you seen my girls?" she asked him.

"Just from a distance yet. I wanted to see you the first one of all, because you meant so much to me that time long ago." He was silent an instant and then went on more lightly. "I'm not surprised to hear Lilith's to be married." He laughed. "I always planned to come back and marry one of your girls, you know, because I wanted to adopt you for a mother."

She twinkled her eyes responsively. "I've got two girls yet, one of 'em born after you left. Surely you'll be through with your wanderings by the time she's husband-high."

"All right. You save her for me, and I'll be back one of these days."

She propelled him over to speak to Lilith and Tina. "Girls, this is Dan."

Tina sprang forward, her eyes alight with welcome. "I thought you never were coming back, Dan!"

Lilith appraised his looks, his manner, with her usual poise, and seemed to approve of him when she held out her hand in greeting. "Wonderful, tell me of your far lands and what you have seen there."

Her clear blue eyes had a dreamy light in them, and she looked more than ever like a sea maiden, with her cool, green gown, her yellow hair and translucent skin.

"In no lands have I seen anything so lovely as you," Dan said with gay insouciance. "Flatterer! Are you here for long?"

Irene saw the look of the huntress flicker in the girl's blue eyes. He shook his head regretfully. "Don't tomorrow for Mexico, and maybe South America."

"For another eight years?" "Maybe. Quien sabe?" "Then hail and farewell, Ulysses. Happy voyages to you." A smile danced over her lips and flickered in her eyes.

"And to you. May life bring you captive everything you desire."

She looked at him serenely. "I'm determined that it shall." Tina spoke teasingly as she glanced at Roger. "She has made a good start."

"I stand for complete subjectivity," said Roger, will mock humbly. "You need to, with Lil." Ross derided him. The next day Guinn came home late to dinner and announced soberly, "Miss Malvina's dead."

"She went off suddenly, so she didn't suffer any pain," he said. "Are you and Mother still residuary legatees?" drawled Lilith. "Don't speak lightly when she's dead, daughter," he rebuked her. "I assure you, I never speak lightly of any chance of fortune in our family."

"Miss Malvina's special fantasy was making wills," Irene explained to Roger. "If anyone spoke pleasantly to her, she'd leave him something in her will. Then next week when he did something to displease her she'd make a codicil and cut him off. Everybody has to have some delusion."

"You earned a fortune, Mother, by the way you martyred yourself to save Father," commented Tina.

"Fortunately we never spent our prospects in advance," said Guinn. "The poor old soul will be doing well if she has left enough to bury her."

WOMAN GIVES UP LOVE FOR BROTHER, NOW SUES HIM

Claims Oral Promise to Re-compense Her for Sacrifice Has Been Broken.

New York.—Charging that she sacrificed all opportunities for married life and happiness in order to bring up her younger brother after the death of their parents, Miss Sarah Morgan is now suing her brother to compel him to carry out an alleged oral promise to pay her $25,000 and $25 a week for the balance of her life.

The defendant is William T. Morgan. It was agreed that he would make his financial provision for her, according to the sister, because she had devoted her life to him.

Miss Morgan appeared before Judge Fawcett in Brooklyn Supreme court to ask that her brother's answer to the complaint be stricken out. William has contended that the "contract" was without consideration. The court decided his answer was not frivolous and declined the request, leaving the matter of consideration to the jury.

Miss Morgan, in her papers, says her brother paid her $10,000 on account and $25 a week for more than a year. Therefore, she maintains, he owes her a lump sum of $15,000 and $150 on the weekly account.

The parents of the Morgans died 35 years ago when Sarah was twenty and William ten, it is stated in the complaint. Miss Morgan says she went to work to support her brother and that when he was the cynicism of a girl, and her eyes held material affection for this young fellow she still thought of as a heartless, motherless boy.

Morgan, in his answer, asserts that what provision he made for his sister was "merely a generous gesture."

At the time, she avers, he had $40,000 cash and ten parcels of realty in Brooklyn. There was a tacit understanding between them also that he should not marry, she continues, but in 1925 he broke this and did marry.

Miss Morgan then demanded that he keep his oral promise, she avers, and when he refused she sued. He compromised by agreeing to give her $25,000 and $25 weekly for life, she said, paying $10,000 down and for a time paying her the weekly sums.

Morgan, in his answer, asserts that what provision he made for his sister was "merely a generous gesture."

Center of Universe Is Found by Science

Chicago.—Plucked from a cloud of figures at the American Statistical association's meeting was some information as to what's new among the stars.

The center of the universe has been found.

Astronomers have reached the conclusion that the nucleus of the earth's galaxy of stars, of which the sun is an infinitesimal member, is in the constellation Sagittarius.

Prof. Harlow Shapley of Harvard said.

The earth is estimated to be about 47,000 light years distant from this center of the universe.

The observations which led to the discovery was obtained from study on Harvard astronomical photographic plates of several hundred stars.

The implication of the discovery, Professor Harlow explained, is that the Milky Way is all one great galaxy of stars, shaped like two plates, face to face, with an extensive and massive nucleus which is five kiloparsecs in thickness. (A kiloparsec is approximately 6,200 light years, figuring the travel of light at 186,000 miles a second.)

Germans Smuggling Aliens to United States

Bremen, Germany.—Detectives in the port of Bremen have just discovered a secret "institute for stowaways" occupied chiefly by smuggling European emigrants into the United States. The ring leaders of the "institute" have been arrested. The enterprise, locally known as Stowaways, Inc., maintained its headquarters at a small, inconspicuous hotel in Bremerhaven.

The smugglers preyed mainly upon Italian emigrants, from whom they exacted pump fees for a trip and safe entry into the United States.

In connection with their discovery the police caught 13 Italian stowaways on a German steamer about to leave Bremerhaven for New York. All were taken into custody.

About Gentle Art of Fishing

By RING LARDNER

To the Editor:

The undersigned wrote such a masterful article on instructions in regards to fishing a yr. ago that I have been ast to write another one and try to make it somewhere near twice as good.

I can't be all over the country at once but they say that from now on is the best time to fish in either fresh or salt water or both at the same time on acct. of being the open season for the new kinds of fish which have been discovered since the last fishing article I wrote.

In the old days before these things happened, why if a person lived on a fresh water pond or rivulet, why all they had to do was to bait their hook with spinach and they were practically sure of dragging in a muskie, a pickerel, a perch, a pike, a sword fish, a swage, a seror or a cramer. But now days since they have found out about the new kinds of fish you have got to use a whole lot more judgment. That is why I have been approached on all sides with a view to learning the new secrets in regards to how to fish for the new kind of fish.

Would like to exclaim at the outset that I have long been a student of what I sometimes call the finny tribe and am known around home by a nickname I once gave myself, namely, the piscatorial artist. Lots of people still call me Isaac Newton on acct. of the mastery I have got over the piscatorial profession.

Well to make a short story still shorter, the latest fish that can be caught in medium water, that is, half way between salt and fresh and vice versa, is the gefel. The gimrod must first lay on their back and read an evening paper. Along about five o'clock you bait your hook and cast it off the side of the boat or hammock or bicycle or whatever you was in to start with. The bait must be sage dressing out of a turkey. It will improve matters if you use a fisherman's teeps. Reading the comic pictures of the paper and laughing aloud as that makes the gefel think he is not in earnest. Sometimes it is necessary to have two evening papers as the gefel don't always agree on which is the funniest pictures. The first time Commodore Gallagher of the Knickerbocker Yacht Club fished for gefel, he had no less than three comic supplements and had to read one and a 1/2 before he even got a nibble. By that time both he and the gefel was laughing their heads off. That put them both on easy st.

Another fish that has recently been discovered in all kinds of waters and some kinds of milk is the prone. The word prone means laying down face forwards on your stomach and that is where this scion of the finny tribe got its name on acct. of it always lying down face forwards on its stomach. In order to catch them you have got to first wake them up and turn them over and ask them why they was laying on their stomach. If they don't know, or if something, but as soon as you find out then you know how to fish for them. If it was cramps you give them some kind of indigestion tablets which I won't mention no names on acct. of free advertising, but if that is what it was, they will get very grateful and turn over on their side and then is the time to give a prone. Lay them on their side as helpless as one of Tunney's sparring partners.

In this connection it might be of interest to tell other Isaac Nimrod about my first experience in prone fishery. I had been out in a quet boat on Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, for three years, every day trying to get a prone. One day however, one of them got in misery and I culled down to the bottom of the lake what is the matter. The prone rolled over and made the remark that it felt kind of out of things as parties had been going on at the different mansions and cottages around the lake and it had not been invited to one. Well, I says, you and I are in the same boat.

No, says the prone, we ain't but we will be. With that, he jumped up and got in my boat. That is one way of catching a prone.

Another kind of fish that everybody is ravenous to grab one of them down ever way is the month fish. This is four times as much as the weak fish and it takes four times as long to catch them but when you catch them you don't half to worry for another month.

They are caught with a paze out of a calendar, like for inst. if you are fishing in September, you bait your hook with the September page of the calendar and they will grab it, thinking they are going ahead somewhere.

A year from now I will give you another lesson in what I call the piscatorial art.

Colonial Bedsteads

The champion bedstead was popular in New England. "This," writes A. C. Morse, "was a strong, frame bed with a network of rope, which was stretched at the head and foot of the bed and rested on two heavy posts. By day the frame with its bed, four slings, was hauled up to the wall and covered with a quilt and a coverlet. The bed was in the kitchen, the place chosen because the room was the warmest in the house."

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

IRENE ROBELINE married Guinn Holden, young and handsome Texas minister, shortly after Lillith, his first wife, died, leaving an infant Lillith. Irene, secretly in love with Guinn, had seen him practically snatched away by the beautiful blonde and coquettish Lillith, who had boasted of her ability to make Guinn propose to her. Instead of the love that Irene expected to enjoy to complete her happiness, she found always the unseen barrier of the dead Lillith haunting Holden's mind and enthroned in his heart. He spoiled the child, granting her every wish and fancy. Even when Irene's child came he referred to her as "Lillith's little sister." This was Tina, who grows up a dark-eyed, lovely child, sweet and thoughtful, but conscious of her secondary position to the beautiful Lillith in her father's heart. Irene ponders this poignant problem that has persisted during the years of marriage to Holden. Even Ross and Lundy, the boys, and little Patricia, the youngest, were similarly regarded by their father. How to supplant this "golden ghost" of the glorious dead Lillith was the doubly difficult because of the grown-up Lillith, who had not only her mother's beauty, but greater intellect to support her selfish desires and strengthen her hold on her father's affection. Graduated from college, Lillith tells her father she wishes to study voice in New York. Tina, too, wants to pursue an art course. "Lillith is the older," the father would reply when Irene remonstrated. Tina, however, was the favorite of Will Lundy, town doctor, who had been in love with Irene. Tina, hurt when Lillith doesn't want her at Roger Devereaux's house party, returns to Summer school. Lillith announces her engagement to Roger.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

IRENE probed her own soul, as she stood there in the firelight. Had she been as good a mother to Lillith as she might? Now that the child was going out of the house, she longed to envelop her in love, to shelter her from every trial and temptation, to protect her from disappointment and hardship. "We'll give you the very nicest wedding we can manage, dear," she said unsteadily. "No, whatever you want," Guinn, smiled. Lillith, promised with faint amusement. "I'm afraid that wouldn't be possible." The father's eyes were anxious. "What is it that you want, Lillith?" There was light scorn in her tone as she answered him: "Oh, all sorts of foolish things. Limousines with liveried chauffeurs, yachts lying at anchor in far harbors, great houses to live in and wonderful art treasures." He laughed in relief, as he kissed her cheek. "I see you're only fooling, just dreaming romantic dreams, I was afraid at first there was something you really wanted and couldn't have. Those are only—possessions." "To a preacher, yes. To a vain young girl, maybe not." "Then you shouldn't have chosen a paragon to be born in," he said indulgently. Her red lips made a moue. "Maybe I shouldn't—if I'd been asked." There was a jealous, resentful of the hurt she gave to Guinn. Was the girl deliberately cruel, or was she maybe not quite satisfied with this coming marriage, and so willing to inflict pain because she felt it? She could find nothing of Lillith's mother motives or feelings, for girls were so secretive about love affairs. But this was a sensible marriage, a fortunate chance that even Lillith with her beauty and her pride ought to be happy in. If only Tina could do as well when her turn came. When Tina came home at Christmas time, Irene watched her with keen eyes that concealed their scrutiny. Did she by any chance carry a bit for Roger? The mother studied the girl surreptitiously, as a physician might feel a pulse or take blood pressure without letting the patient know. But she sighed with relief when she saw Tina's unclouded brow, heard her old gay laugh. "Oh, Lil, how perfectly marvelous that you and Roger are going to be married. You're just a man in the world I'd rather have for a brother than Roger." That couldn't be acting for Tina was no actress at all. Everything was all right. Lillith, of her own accord, asked her to be her maid of honor. "But you must do something to get those freckles of your nose, because I don't want a maid of honor speckled like a guinea hen." "But, Lil, wouldn't you rather have Roger's sister? She's so pretty—or some one of your classmates." There was a wistful doubt in her tone, and her brown eyes looked afraid of being hurt.

Summer, then college and law school, and Europe in Summer. "I've thought of you a thousand times, Dan, and wondered if you'd never come home. I want to hear about everything. When can you come to see us?" Her voice had the enthusiasm of a girl who had eyes held material affection for this young fellow she still thought of as a heartless, motherless boy. "I'm leaving tomorrow—here just for Christmas Day, with Dad. We're going to Mexico together and then for a longer jaunt perhaps." "I'm glad you're going to be with your father. He needs his boy. Have you seen my girls?" she asked him.

"Just from a distance yet. I wanted to see you the first one of all, because you meant so much to me that time long ago." He was silent an instant and then went on more lightly. "I'm not surprised to hear Lillith's to be married." He laughed. "I always planned to come back and marry one of your girls, you know, because I wanted to adopt you for a mother."

She twinkled her eyes responsively. "I've got two girls yet, one of 'em born after you left. Surely you'll be through with your wandering by the time she's husband-high." "All right. You save her for me, and I'll be back one of these days." She propelled him over to speak to Lillith and Tina. "Girls, this is Dan."

Tina sprang forward, her eyes alight with welcome. "I thought you never were coming back, Dan." Lillith appraised his looks, his manner, his easy pose, and seemed to approve of him when she held out her hand in greeting. "Wanderer, tell me of your far lands and what you have seen there."

Her clear blue eyes had a dreamy light in them, and she looked more than ever like a sea maiden, with her cool, green gown, her yellow hair and translucent skin.

"In no lands have I seen anything so lovely as you," Dan said with gay insouciance. "Glad to see you here for long?"

Irene saw the look of the hunter's flicker in the girl's blue eyes. He shook his head regretfully. "Oh tomorrow for Mexico, and maybe South America." "For one or eight years?" "Maybe. Quien sabe?" "Then hail and farewell, Ulysses. Happy voyages to you." A smile danced over her lips and flickered in her eyes.

Dan bowed. "And to you. May life bring you captive everything you desire."

She looked at him serenely. "I'm determined that it shall." Tina spoke teasingly as she glanced at Roger. "She has made a good start."

"I stand for complete subjectivity," said Roger, will mock humbly. "You need to, with Lil." Ross derided him.

The next day Guinn came home late to dinner and announced soberly, "Miss Malvina's dead." "For Miss Malvina?" cried Irene. "She went off suddenly, so she didn't suffer any pain," he said. "Are you and Mother still residuary legatees?" drawled Lillith. "Don't speak lightly when she's dead, daughter." He rebuked her. "I never speak lightly of any chance of fortune in our family."

"Miss Malvina's special fantasy was making wills," Irene explained to Roger. "If anyone spoke pleasantly to her, she'd leave him something in her will. Then one week when he did something to displease her she'd make a codicil and cut him off. Every body has to have some delusion." "You earned a fortune, Mother, by the way you martyred when she died to save Father," commented Tina.

"Fortunately we never spent our prospects in advance," said Guinn. "The poor old soul will be doing well if she has left enough to bury her."

WOMAN GIVES UP LOVE FOR BROTHER, NOW SUES HIM

Claims Oral Promise to Reconcile Her for Sacrifice Has Been Broken.

New York.—Charging that she sacrificed all opportunities for married life and happiness in order to bring up her younger brother after the death of their parents, Miss Sarah Morgan is now suing her brother to compel him to carry out an alleged oral promise to pay her $25,000 and $25 a week for the balance of her life.

The defendant is William T. Morgan. It was agreed that he would make his financial provision for her, according to the sister, because she had devoted her life to him.

Miss Morgan appeared before Judge Fawcett in Brooklyn Supreme court to ask that her brother's answer to the complaint be stricken out. William has contended that the "contract" was without consideration. The court decided the answer was not frivolous and declined the request, leaving the matter of consideration to the jury.

Miss Morgan, in her papers, says her brother paid her $10,000 on account and $25 a week for more than a year. Therefore, she maintains, he owes her a lump sum of $15,000 and $450 on the weekly account.

The parents of the Morgans died 35 years ago when Sarah was twenty and William ten. It is stated in the complaint. Miss Morgan says she went to work to support her brother and that when he was able to earn money she allowed him to keep it.

Morgan invested his money wisely in real estate and prospered, the affidavit continues, and in 1903, in return for what Sarah had done for him, agreed to give his sister half of all the property he possessed then or should obtain in the future.

At the time, she avers, he had $40,000 in cash and ten parcels of realty in Brooklyn. There was a tacit understanding between them that he should not marry, she continues, but in 1925 he broke this and did marry.

Miss Morgan then demanded that he keep his oral promise, she avers, and when he refused she sued. He compromised by agreeing to give her $25,000 and $25 weekly for life, she said, paying $10,000 down and for a time paying her the weekly sums.

Morgan, in his answer, asserts that what provision he made for his sister was "merely a generous gesture."

Center of Universe Is Found by Science

Chicago.—Plucked from a cloud of figures at the American Statistical association's meeting was some information as to what's new among the stars.

The center of the universe has been found. Astronomers have reached the conclusion that the nucleus of the earth's galaxy of stars, of which the sun is an infinitesimal member, is in the constellation Sagittarius. Prof. Harlow Shapley of Harvard said.

The earth is estimated to be about 47,000 light years distant from this center of the universe. The observations which led to the discovery was obtained from study on Harvard astronomical photographic plates of several hundred stars.

The implication of the discovery, Professor Harlow explained, is that the Milky Way is all one great galaxy of stars, shaped like two plates, face to face, with an extensive nucleus in thickness. (A kiloparsec is approximately 6,200 light years, figuring the travel of light at 186,000 miles a second.)

Germans Smuggling Aliens to United States

Bremen, Germany.—Detectives in the port of Bremen have just discovered a secret "institute for stowaways" occupied chiefly in smuggling European emigrants into the United States. The ring leaders of the "institute" have been arrested. The enterprise, locally known as Stowaways, Inc. maintained its headquarters at a small, inconspicuous hotel in Bremerhaven.

The smugglers preyed mainly upon Italian emigrants, from whom they exacted plump fees for a trip and safe entry into the United States.

In connection with their discovery the police caught 13 Italian stowaways on a German steamer about to leave Bremerhaven for New York. All were taken into custody.

Blind Girl Does Well as High School Pupil

Pawtucket, R. I.—A sixteen-year-old blind girl in the high school here attends the same classes and takes the same courses as 1,100 normal students.

She is Yolanda Naomi Ferrarini and she has been blind for five years. Principal Lucius A. Whipple says that the girl, the first blind student in Pawtucket high school, is a student of the highest order.

Her success in her school work is largely due to her efficient use of the Braille instrument, which enables her to write everything she wishes in dotted letters, which she later can read by touch. The girl aspires to become a teacher of the blind.

ADVERTISING CAR

The new advertising car seen on the streets has been constructed by Lyman Bell, who will use the same for commercial advertising. He has installed a Calliope in the car, the latest and most modern instrument manufactured by the Rudolph Worlitzer Co., for outdoor use. This instrument has taken the place of the old time Calliope, and is most pleasing in tone quality.

Appealing, as it does, to the eye and ear simultaneously, makes a very effective piece of advertising for picture shows, merchants special sales, lodge fairs, church supper and socials, chamber of commerce drives, fire sales, political campaigns and a multitude of other uses.

The outfit is very neat in appearance, and we hope the business men of the community, when in need of such work, will use Bells Business Booster Bus. ADV.

Infants' Heads Flattened

The Chinookan Indians indulged in the practice of flattening the heads of their children. A board attached to the cradle board of the infant brought pressure to bear upon the forehead which soon flattened it.

Union Long in Favor

Native to southern Asia or the borders of the Mediterranean sea, the union has been esteemed an excellent food from the earliest times, of which there are authentic records. Egyptians cultivated onions at the dawn of their history.

To Conjure With

The expression, "a name to conjure with," harks back to the time when conjurers claimed to perform their tricks by uttering some "name of power," such as Solomon.

Frenchmen First to Fly

The first men ever to cut loose from the surface of Mother Earth in a successful flight, as far as history shows, were the Montgolfier brothers, Stephen and Joseph, Frenchmen, who in 1783 started the world with its first balloon ascension.

OBITUARY

MRS. MABEL J. BAXTER

While we are greatly bereaved at the going of our loved one, we have great stories of wealth in the memories of our loved one. When we undertake to describe the career of a good woman, we are constrained to turn to the Psalmist to find the words, "The steps of a good woman are ordered by the Lord."

On August 30, 1904, in the county of Pickaway, Ohio, a daughter, Mabel Josephine, was born to Harry and Theresa Hill, and was one of ten children who blessed this union.

At the age of 14 she united with the Methodist Episcopal church at Olive Green and has always been a faithful member.

In 1923, she was graduated from the Sunbury high school and then began teaching in the public schools.

On the 7th day of July, 1927, she was united in marriage to Baxter Lamp of Newark, O., who survives, together with parents and the following brothers and sisters: Herman, Herschel, Bishop, Orville, Pauline, Wanetta, Kenneth, and Raymond and a host of relatives and friends.

Hers was a strong character and during the mere score of years she was permitted to stay, she used that strength in planning and caring for those whose future was very dear to her. The voice which we loved to hear is forever silent, and the smile that has always greeted us will greet us no more.

Mabel closed the volume of her life Feb. 25, 1929, and while the last few months of her life were months of gradual decline, she walked steadily and bravely towards the end, confident of her steps even until the last one had been taken.

Beautiful toiler, her work all done. Beautiful unto glory gone. Beautiful life with its crown now won.

God giveth rest. Beautiful spirit free from all stain. Ours the heartache, the sorrow and pain. Hers the glory and infinite gain. Her slumber is sweet.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to extend our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and after the death of Mrs. Mabel J. Lamp. We also wish to thank C. E. Hill, funeral director for his efficient service and Rev. Emil J. Toensmeier for his consoling words.

JAMES MILTON

James Milton, son of Stewart and Maria (McDill) Tootle, was born near Clarksburg, Ross-co., O., Nov. 15, 1868, died Feb. 21, 1929, aged 60 years, 3 months and six days.

Mr. Tootle was ill but a few days, death being due to tetanus. On Dec. 25, 1888, he was united in marriage to Sara Christina Slagter and to this union was born five children, two of which, Andrew and Arthur preceded him to the great beyond. His wife also preceded him in death Feb. 12, 1921. Three children survive Earl of Chillicothe, O.; Neal of Tarleton and Harold at home.

Of his immediate family he leaves an aged mother, one sister Mrs. Wm. Knapp of Clarksburg, O., besides a host of relatives and friends to mourn his death.

On Jan. 26, 1921, he expressed his faith and trust in God and with his wife united with the Brown's chapel, M. E. church. He was a kind and affectionate father who loved his home and family and will be sadly missed from that circle. Amid the scenes of worldly duties, we pause to pay tribute to the dead. The sun of the life of a well known character has set forever. A cord is broken in our harp of joy and all the world seems a dirge of sad regret. We miss the brightness of his smile, his gentle acts of charity and loyal fellowship. We gaze upon the vacant chair and eyes grow dim but on the midst of tears, the angel faith doth paint the rainbow—promise of Eternal hope. "We cannot and we will not say that he is gone, he is just away."

"The precious seed of weeping Today we sow once more; Whose pilgrimage is o'er, Oh death, but safely lands him Where we too would attain; Our father's voice demands him And death to him is gain He has what we are wanting He sees what we believe The sins of earth so haunting Have there no power to grieve, Safe in his father's keeping Who sent him calm release, 'Tis only we are weeping He dwells in perfect peace."

CARD OF THANKS

The family desires to thank all who have assisted in any way during the illness and have added to our comfort in the death of our dear father.

Quail Need Protection

Quail cease to increase in number after a time, even when not molested. Probably for lack of cover and food. After a territory has its full population of quail the birds do not increase in number unless man, by planting food and cover, makes more covey ranges.

Unlucky Poker Hand

A "good man's hand" in poker is a hand containing a pair of aces and a pair of eights. It is said to be the hand held by Wild Bill Hickok when he was shot at a card table in Deadwood, August 2, 1876.

Cream for Butter

The amount of cream required to produce a pound of butter does not depend on the breed of cow, but on the richness of the cream. Two quarts of cream containing 20 per cent butterfat will make a pound of butter, and one and a half quarts of cream containing 30 per cent butterfat will produce a pound of butter.

Not So Much Interest

I have observed in reading that it is frequently said of the hero that he "knows books," and is able to talk about them. This being admitted, it is at once concluded he is a man of education and character, and worthy of all confidence. The most interesting people I know do not talk much about books, or mention them; I have never been in a bookish atmosphere, except when occasionally in company with publishers or writers.—E. W. ## QUILL AND SCROLL

Since the journalism class of Circleville high school has been a member of the Quill and Scroll for three years, and now has 15 active members. Mr. Fethel, journalism instructor, has been known his views for an organization membership.

Wednesday morning the journalism class elected Helen Kinser, Marie Kellstadt, and Alice Root to draw up a constitution for this organization. The constitution will be ready for ratification Monday.

Some time next week the officers will be elected.

FLOOD INCREASES ABSENCE

Due to the swollen condition of the Scioto river and the resulting overflow of turbulent waters, several of the roads became impassable.

School trucks are unable to traverse the flooded area, compelling students of high school to remain absent from classes.

One student, Josie Ann Collet, resumed her studies at school Thursday, having come by the way of Fox Post Office from which the water recently receded, making access to Circleville from her home possible.

Our typing staff is considerably undiminished by the absence of two typists.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Superintendent J. O. Eagleson, and Supervisor E. L. Daley, attended the Superintendent's Department of the National Education Association convention held at Cleveland, Ohio, February 24-28.

The program consisted of talks by prominent educators, and business men. Governor Cooper, and the newly appointed commissioner of education, Wm. John Cooper of California were two of the many main speakers.

The object of the convention was to try to get the school to train the coming generation to meet the needs of the country. The keynote of the convention was "Training for Democracy."

The department of exhibits included everything needed in every department of every school. Every superintendent was asked to attend to see the new equipment, and new designs in school supplies.

Work done in the Cleveland and Cuyahoga Co. schools was exhibited.

Child Welfare, Girl Scouts, Student Council, and Boy Scouts had booths. The boy scouts directed the teachers through the Public Auditorium where the general meetings were held.

More than 15,000 teachers attended. Every state in the Union was represented.

TO HEAR INAUGURAL

Through the courtesy of Moffitt's Electrical Co., the students of the high school will have the privilege of hearing the radio program broadcast from Washington, D. C. at the time of the inaugural services. In order that this may be accomplished, school will begin at the regular time Monday morning. There will be four thirty-minute periods. School will be dismissed at 10:30. Classes will be resumed at 11:45 in order to hear the program beginning with the administration of the presidential oath of office.

RESERVES ENTERTAIN

Friday afternoon the Girl Reserves gave a short program of songs. President Kellstadt told briefly the history of the Circleville chapter and asked those who desired to join the organization to give their names to the secretary, Elizabeth Roundhouse.

The main feature, "Follow the Gleam," was quite impressive. A triangle was formed and each girl held a lighted candle while "Follow the Gleam" was sung.

The other song "Come All Ye 'T Girls," "Tell Me Why," "The Old Mill Stream," "Little Sir Echo," and "Skun-a-marink-a-dink" were excellently given and enjoyed by the students.

Miss Watson, who is supervisor of the club has been an untiring and congenial leader.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Miss Pigman with the following sophomores, juniors and seniors: Virginia Nelson, Jeannette Bower, Betty Fissell, Margaret Carter, Bernice Dearth, Dorothy Sampson, Hilda Thomas, Elizabeth Cady, Martha Mary Wolfe, and Myriam Hitchcock, attended the cooking school, sponsored by the Columbus Dispatch.

Mrs. Frances Northerness gave a very interesting lecture on Reducing by Counting Calories and also gave a demonstration how to prepare many delicious things to eat.

She prepared a lamb stew pie, crust, muffins, omelet, and chocolate pie. This was enjoyed by all the girls. After dinner they attended a show at Loew's Ohio

SENIORS SEE "HAMLET"

Those who attended the Shakespearean play "Hamlet" at the Hartman theater, Monday evening were: Elliott Barnhill, Helen Galt, Maranda Lytle, Alice Root

Emmet Barnhart, John Caldwell, Harry Butler, Arthur Johnson, Kenneth Elm, and Miss Watson.

All of the visitors agreed that the play was excellent. Some, who had been privileged to see a play in which Mantell portrayed the lead, were of the opinion that Franz Lieber excelled his past contemporary in Shakespearean arts.

ORCHESTRA BRIEFS

Special practice for the string section of the high school orchestra was held Monday evening. This system of practice functions so that alternate weeks, the different sections assemble for practice on Monday evenings. The sections that are in the orchestra are as follows: String section, Brass section and Reed section. This system of practice gives the director a better chance to give more attention to the different sections. It also provides a chance of getting in an extra lesson a week. The complete orchestra assembles on Tuesday evenings for regular practice.

The orchestra is working on some heavy numbers for coming school events, and is progressing very well.

There are still a few openings in the orchestra for pupils who wish to become members of the organization. Several instruments have not been taken up by any of the students. They are as follows:

The bass horn or string bass, French horn, accordion, orchestra bells, banjo, cello, viola, of Xylophone. These openings may be of special interest to freshmen or sophomores, who wish to take them up.

The orchestra played a one hour concert for the Lutheran Brotherhood at the Parish house, Thursday evening. The program consisted of popular as well as standard numbers. The orchestra likes to play at the Parish house because the acoustics are excellent there.

Orchestra members are evidently quite interested in their work, for they are always punctual at the rehearsals and very few are absent. Such things as that ultimately spell success.

New musical numbers which have been ordered always add to the interest of the orchestra as well as the public.

NEW STUDY PLAN

The chemistry classes are trying a new plan for studying. This method is a distinct advantage to the industrious student because the work accomplished is left entirely to the individual. No one is hampered by the slowness of his class.

Six periods a week are spent in study. Each unit of work has references in 10 different text books, rather than the usual one. After the references have been completed, a standard test is given on the unit. In this way each pupil is responsible for his own work.

To illustrate this; some pupils have completed 3 units while others have completed only 1, of course those completing three units will receive a higher grade than the others.

Marvine Binkly still maintains her high standard in typing. In recent test she wrote 63½ words per minute. This is very exceptional for a high school student.

Royal Typewriter Co. is giving awards for speed. Tryouts have been given this week. Final tests are to be given next week. It is hoped that Circleville make a showing.

Doris Shenkwer has an average of 99 per cent in shorthand, an exceptional record for high school students. Mildred Upton with 97 per cent and Iona Miller with 96 per cent, rank next. Some business man ought to have good secretaries. Beginners are completing Gregg manual and will soon begin speed studies.

Business English classes have found themselves salesmen and advertisers for the past week.

Bookkeeping students are flying. Some have finished sets in record time.

THE ADENIAN

On every Wednesday evening intramural games are held in the gym. Mr. Roshon who was coach of Circleville in 1927 is coaching the freshman team.

Who's Who?

The staff of the Adenian is conducting a "Who's Who" contest. Each member of the student body may vote. This contest will determine the most intellectual boy and girl, prettiest, handsomest, "most clever best" sport, busiest, best all around, neppiest, best natured, most mischievous, and the neatest boy and girl.

E. O. A. L. Track Meet at St. Clairsville

Mr. R. C. Cam, former principal of C. H. S. is a member of the committee to choose events for a league track meet to be held at St. Clairsville on May 4. The meet will be open to both boys and girls. Points will be counted separately and a cup given to each winner.

THE MIAMI STUDENT Debate

Miami men's negative debate team met the Ohio Wesleyan affirmative in a formal debate March 1. The question debated was: "Resolved, that the Jury System should be Abolished." Debate students of C. H. S. debated this same question last year.

Floating University

For the first time in the history of American education regular academic degrees will be conferred on the high seas, according to announcements from the home office of Floating University. A revised charter allows the Floating University to confer B. A. and B. W. A. degrees beginning the college year 1929-30. The students may spend from two to four years at the Floating University.

THE GREEN AND WHITE Incompetent Increase

J. R. Johnson, dean of Ohio University, said that in the institutions of higher learning there is a continual increase of students and a corresponding increase of incompetent students.

It seems that Dean Johnson ably expresses a topic of vital interest to all high schools and colleges.

As in past years the Green and White entered the third Annual Ohio Central Newspaper contest which began Feb. 25.

A trophy will be awarded to the winning publication at the semi-annual convention of the O. C. N. A. which will be held at Antioch College in the spring. The Ohio Wesleyan Transcript won the contest last year.

CAPITAL CHIMES Statistical Group

American Lutheran Statistical Association was held on the campus so that the statisticians of the various synods might meet and discuss problems of general statistics of the church. In a measure it was also to supervise the general statistics of the Lutherans in connection with the government.

Cap Quintet Fifth.

Defeating Marietta 45-41 has placed the Lutheran aggregation in fifth place in the Ohio Conference.

This team has made a wonderful showing considering that only one veteran who had much experience was in the lineup and he failed to appear in the first two games.

At the opening of the season, three Sophs were given regular berths. But Coach Katherman soon remedied that by putting forth a presentable quintet during the cager's season.

Debate Scheduled Here.

The Capital men's debate team will hold a practice debate before the brotherhood of Rev. Troutman's church of Circleville. They will then journey into Pennsylvania during April. A dual debate will be held with Gettysburg and other debates are being scheduled.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

Members of the Girl Reserve club, attended a conference for all Girl Reserves in central Ohio, Saturday, Feb. 16, 1929. It was held at the Griswold Memorial Y. W. C. A. on Third Street, at Columbus.

All girls attending were required to register between 9 and 10 o'clock. At 10 o'clock, songs were sung in the auditorium. Many old and some new Girl Reserve songs were sung. This comprised most of the early morning program. At 10:30 the Delaware Girl Reserves guided the thoughts of those present in a very pleasing ceremonial. When 11 a. m. arrived, all members were to report to rooms bearing same color decorations as their registration cards.

Here in each room, a small group was gathered for discussion on the theme of the conference. It enabled everyone to learn more concerning the motives and meaning of the club. These discussion groups closed the morning session.

A delicious luncheon was served at the Central Methodist church. In the afternoon everyone met in the auditorium to learn new songs, to carry back to their respective clubs.

Miss Stitt, from economics department of Ohio State, gave a talk on "The World We Live In" with her came a girl from a shoe factory, an elevator operator from Lazarus and a student from Ohio State university. Each girl gave her opinion and attitude toward the world we live in. Then the Chillicothe Girl reserves led in a closing ceremonial.

Mary Jones, a Columbus girl presided. She was assisted by Mrs. Hess and Miss Cannon. Many of the clubs came in the full Girl Reserve uniform. Girls attending from Circleville high school were: Marie Kellstadt, Ellen Levi, Helen Cellar, Veronica Kuhns and Miss Velma Watson, advisor.

FRESHMAN PARTY

After much discussion, the freshmen held their class party at Circleville High school, February 22. The guests were escorted from the door into the auditorium where they saw and heard a delightful program.

The program was: America, Group; Class talk, President Griffith; Solo, "Old Pals Are the Best Pals After All," Nina Denman; Recitation, "Busy Body," Alice Briggs; "Carolina Moon," "I'll Get By," and "I Fall Down and Go Boom," sung by Charles Plum, Jack Griffith, Gerald McCreary and Gaylord Rose; Trio, by Nina Denman, Ruth Watson and Jean Fitzpatrick; "Chorus Girl's Step," "Blue Shadows," by Nina Denman, Ruth Watson and Jean Fitzpatrick; Piano Solo, "Where the Little Violets Grow," by Donald White; Solo, "Sweethearts on Parade," by Marie Richey; Saxophone solo, "Saxaphobia," Gaylord Rose; Piano solo, "Wants of the Ocean," Dorothy Glick; Recitation, "Hum Un Not Me," Alice Briggs; "Till We Meet Again," Group.

The guests then were taken to the gym, where they enjoyed a most delicious lunch. The menu was: Pineapple Whip, sandwiches, Potato chips, pickles, cakes and doughnuts.

INTEREST IN PHOTOGRAPHY

Recently when Mr. Zaenglein, instructor of the manual training department, was taking pictures for the high school annual, he found that several boys of the department were interested in photography, and he allowed them to watch him finish the pictures.

The boys have shown much interest in the work for there have been quite a few dark rooms made at home and some of the boys are making pictures which they turn over to Mr. Zaenglein who criticizes them.

In a recent statement Mr. Zaenglein said, "The boys have shown much interest in this work that I would like to try out an experiment here at the school."

"I would gladly give one hour each week after school hours for a period of three to four weeks to the students of the school who are interested in this sort of work. The course in elements of photography would be open to boys and girls."

"I would like to see those interested and form a class of 15 or 20. The course will be free to all. Students who are interested in this work should see Mr. Zaenglein and make use of his generous offer."

CHAPLET

Chapel was held Friday afternoon in observance of George Washington's birthday.

The exercises were opened by Miss Wittich who led the assembly in the singing of several patriotic songs.

Mr. Gephart then introduced the speaker, Rev. McElfresh, who spoke of "The Manliness of George Washington."

ATTENDED "CARMEN"

Among those who journeyed to Columbus to see the opera, "Carmen" were the Misses Wittich, Watson, Raines, Pierce, and Pigman.

CLOSE CAGE SEASON

Tuesday night at Frankfort the Circleville Tigers played their last league game this season. Heeter and Phillips graduate and this will leave two vacant positions on the squad.

It seemed as though the men have enjoyed being representatives of the Red and Black. Davis being high scorer on the squad deserves honorable mention.

The squad consisted of 28 men at the beginning of the season. It now consists of 12, and six of these are juniors.

Coach Guthrie, through the co-operation of his squad, has given several of the league teams a stiff battle this season.

Coach Guthrie deserves a lion's share of the credit because he has never failed to encourage his squad and has stuck to his work faithfully.

GRADE BASKETBALL

Eighth grade has begun basketball to determine the champion of that grade. The first game was played on Monday, Feb. 18, the "C" class beat the "A" class 25-11. However, on Wednesday the "C" class received a setback from the "B" class the score being 14-7. On Monday, Feb. 23, the "C" class again beat the "A" class 20-11. On Wednesday the "C" class turned the trick on the "B" class the score being 17-10. Addison Zeimer is refereeing the games. The standing of the classes is:

| Team      | Won | Lost |
|-----------|-----|------|
| "C" Class | 3   | 1    |
| "B" Class | 1   | 1    |
| "A" Class | 0   | 2    |

Jaggy Davis is coaching the sophomore class and Dwight Wilson is assistant coach.

PARTY CELEBRATES TWO BIRTHDAYS

Two shared honors at a delightful birthday party Monday night, February 25. They were Miss Ellen Arledge who celebrated her 17th birthday anniversary and Miss Annabelle Arledge who was fifteen. The list of guests included Miss Edith Herron, Miss Esther Martin, Miss Helen Foster, Miss Mary Martin, Miss Mary Arledge, Miss Bessie Talmay, Miss Hermie Arledge, Miss Margaret Gilt, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Witten Roy Ferguson, Russell Herron, John Hickey, Albert Vanfossen, Roy McQuade, Everett Ferguson, Fred Herron, Ralph McQuade, Alfred Vanfossen, Paul Peck, Harold Herron, Dubb Anderson and Charles Linton.

VICTORIOUS TEAM ENJOINED AT DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Timmons of New Holland, entertained Wednesday evening with a six o'clock dinner in honor of the New Holland boys' basketball team, Pick-away-co champions.

The birth date of the boys' captain, Robert Timmons and their coach, Merle R. Sumption was the same as the date on which they emerged victorious in the Pick-away tournament.

The lovely home of the hosts was decorated in red and white. The color scheme was continued in the dining room where an enormous birthday cake and the silver basketball trophy vied for honor as the center of attraction.

After a sumptuous four course dinner each of the guests was given a beautiful red carnation by Miss Katharine Baker, assistant principal of the high school. The remainder of the evening was spent in various games and listening to the radio account of the Sharkey-Stribling fight.

It was a lovely way to compliment the boys and to honor their captain and coach.

The following were present: Mr. Merle R. Sumption, coach; Robert Timmons, captain; Earl Vincent, Jr., William Mace, Leo Rodgers, Reed Davy, Weldon Timmons, Grimes Kahler, Everett Cook, Earl Arnold, Raymond, French and Kermit Vincent.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Timmons in the hospitality were Mrs. V. B. Jennings, Mrs. Wade Vincent, Mrs. Charles Kennedy, Miss Katharine Baker.

MRS. BARRERE ENTERTAINS WITH LUNCHEON BRIDGE

Three out-of-town guests were present Friday at the one o'clock luncheon at which Mrs. Elgar Barrere of W. Union-st. was hostess. Others present were from the Tuesday and Thursday bridge clubs, and several additional guests. From a distance were Mrs. James Rogers of Ellensburg, Wash., guest of Mrs. H. P. Folsom; Mrs. Arthur Hartwell of Birmingham, Mich., and Mrs. Jacob Hollenbeck from St. Louis.

Miss Abbe Mills Clarke and Miss Grace Clarke assisted Mrs. Barrere on this occasion. At the conclusion of the bridge game the winner of the prize for highest score among the out-of-town guests was Mrs. Rogers, while Mrs. Charles Lewis carried off the honors among the Circleville guests.

LADIES AID IN LAURELVILLE

Regular monthly meeting of the M. E. Ladies Aid of Laurelville will be held at the home of Mrs. Lillian McClelland next Thursday P. M., March 7th. The hostess will be assisted in the entertainment by Mrs. Stella McClelland, Mrs. Carrie Karshner, Mrs. Dora Roos and Miss Clara Allen. A good attendance is desired.

PHYTHIAN SISTERS TO KNOT COMFORT

Adelphi Pythian Sisters at their meeting on Tuesday evening, planned to knot a comfort at their next meeting, and to sell chances on it. The drawing will take place some time in March. Every sister is requested to be present at the temple meeting next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, a covered dish luncheon to be enjoyed with the work. The tickets will be ready at this time for each sister to be sold at ten cents per chance.

W. C. T. U. MEETING IN WALNUT-TWP

The regular monthly meeting of the Walnut-twp Women's Christian Temperance Union was held February 19 at the home of Mrs. Kathryn Reber.

This being the Frances Willard Memorial meeting a number of interesting papers were read and discussed.

Lord" in December of 1873 which resulted in the organization of the W. C. T. U. of the United States. In spite of the Crusaders, the work of the white ribbon woman shall continue until the legalized liquor traffic is abolished and our laws are enforced. I don't say that the women will change the world, but I do say they can if they want to. We want to give to every child its rightful God given heritage and protect the homes of this fair land.

The W. C. T. U. announces a pledge signing campaign among the youth of America, the campaign to end March 4, 1933, at which time the result of the canvass will be made to President Hoover. The organization of this nation wide movement is in the hands of the Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. in every state.

The pledges read: "With President Hoover I want prohibition to succeed. I want to give prohibition its chance. That the constitution may be protected and orderly government preserved I declare my purpose to abstain from the use of all alcoholic liquors as a beverage; to support and defend the 18th amendment."

W. F. M. S. MEETS IN ADELPHI

The W. F. M. S. of the Adelphi M. E. church met at the church on Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. Ella Vaughan, as leader. The devotionals were conducted by Mrs. Lillian McClelland, and the mystery box was conducted by Mrs. Ella Vaughan. After a very interesting business session, Rev. Brown gave a talk after which a delicious covered dish lunch was served to the members and the following invited guests: Mrs. Dyer, Mrs. Alma Craft, Mrs. Mary Lesher, Mrs. Effie Spangler, Mrs. Edna Strous, Mrs. Daisy Armstrong, Mrs. Elva Cryder, Mrs. Georgia McFarren and Rev. Weiser.
